RECIPROCITY IS VERY POPULAR

Agriculturists Declare Agreement is What They Have been Looking For

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, March 9.—Liberal enthusiasm broke loose this morning in the party caucus at which reciprocity was discussed. The agriculturists of Canada in all provinces are notifying their members that the trade agreement is what they have been looking for, and that they want it to go through. Members got up and reported they had heard from men in their constituencies who have opposed them before, but who were now promising to support them as an expression of their approval of the government's trade bargain. Among those at the caucus were Wm. Germain and Lloyd Harris, who are against reciprocity, but with the party on other issues.

It was decided to continue vigorously a campaign of education in the House and country, and to press the agreement to as speedy a ratification as possible.

The government was asked to select eight members allotted to the Liberal side for places on the parliamentary coronation delegation.

Agreement Approved.

Macleod, Alb., March 9.—The Macleod Board of Trade at its annual meeting adopted unanimously a resolution endorsing and approving the reciprocity agreement and recommending its enactment into law by the parliament of Canada concurrently with similar action by the United States congress.

AXE VERSUS BULLET.

Twentieth Century Duel Declined in Favor of Police Court.

Lorne Thomas, formerly stable-man at the Silver Spring Brewery, was charged by Walter Clayton, night-watchman and engineer at the brewery, in the Police court to-day, with threatening to chop Clayton's head off, the threat having been made Saturday. Walter Clayton was charged by Lorne Thomas with threatening to do him grievous bodily harm.

To support both complaints the plaintiffs swore they were in fear of their lives from each other. In the mind of the magistrate, while both were afraid of each other, there was little chance of them coming together to do bodily harm. Both cases were heard together and Thomas was bound over to keep the peace for six months under bonds of $100.

Thomas had been dismissed Friday, and Saturday night went to the brewery with an axe, invited Clayton to step outside and have his head chopped off. Clayton answered the invitation by exposing a .38 calibre revolver, and requesting the axe man to start in chopping and make it a competition between the speed of the axe and the speed of the bullet. Thomas declined and went away.

John McDonald, who is driver at the brewery, gave the information that a lady was the cause of the row between the men. He did not know her name and had never seen her. With true gallantry the lady's name was kept out of court records and the cause of the row set down as arising from the fact that Thomas was discharged owing to incompetency at the instigation of the night-watchman.

KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK.

Moncton, N. B., March 9.—One man named McDougall was killed and several injured in a collision between the Maritime express, bound from Halifax to Montreal, and a train on the Intercolonial railway at Derby Junction at 11.15 to-day. The express crashed into the local train.

A large number of the electors of Victoria have for some time past been urging R. L. Drury to allow his name to be placed in nomination for the office of mayor at the approaching municipal elections, and Mr. Drury promised to take the matter under consideration. To-day Mr. Drury announced that he would give a final decision in the matter the last of the present month.

PETITION FOR CONNECTING CAR LINES AT SHOAL BAY PARK.

The petition which has been drawn up for the purpose of connecting Oak Bay and Foal Bay car lines is assuming enormous proportions and those desiring to sign same can do so by calling at the office of Monk & Montgath, 639 Fort street. If petition is successful the car will run directly down Central avenue, through Shoal Bay Park.

Calgary, March 9.—After days spent in conference, the nine workers and operators are as far from arriving at an agreement as they were at the start. Yesterday morning and afternoon the committee met to confer on the closed shop question, which is proving a knotty problem.

EDWARD TERRY IN "SWEET LAVENDER"

Entirely Delightful Presentation of Charming Comedy by Excellent Company

SWEET LAVENDER, an original domestic drama in three acts, by Sir Arthur Pinero.
Geoffrey Wedderburn, banker, Barnchester Robert Pateman
Clement Hale, his adopted son, studying for the bar Parnival Madgewick
Dr. Delaney, physician William Dexter
Dick Phenyl, a local character Edward Terry
Horace Bream, a young American Templer Powell
Mr. Maw, a solicitor Christopher Steele
Mr. Bulger, hairdresser and wig-maker Percy Bell
Mrs. Gillfillan, Wedderburn's sister-in-law Kathleen Leigh
Minnie, her daughter Ruth Holt, housekeeper and laundress Adah Barton
Lavender, her daughter Christine Rayner

It may seem to some of us that much of what is popularly known as the domestic drama ventures perilously near the melodramatic class. But at times that elusive quality, the public arranges itself against the too critical dramatic critic and gives its unequalled imprimatur to an occasional product of that school.

It is hardly worth arguing the point that the critic is not damned because the art of the dramatist and the greater artistry of the actor has clothed a certain set of possible human happenings in a dress which the popular strong-arms itself against the too critical dramatic critic and gives its unequalled imprimatur to an occasional product of that school.

It was a fortunate thing for Victorians that for Mr. Terry's first visit to this city may it not be his last—he should have chosen this most delightful of comedies as his vehicle. And if demonstrative appreciation is any criterion there is no doubt that Victoria will be included in any future American tour of Mr. Terry's. Not for very long has an overhauling audience at the Victoria broken forth into such spontaneous plaudits of a histrionic artist; seldom have so many certain recalls been heard; more seldom still has a star been called on for a speech.

Dick Phenyl is a most lovable creation, and in Mr. Terry's hands, is a bit of character work which could be undertaken acceptably only by an actor of such distinction. It would be a work of supererogation, if not an impertinence to criticize Mr. Terry. He is so thoroughly the artist that on the stage he is no longer Edward Terry but—in this case—Dick Phenyl—the whimsical old bachelor, briefless barrister, whole-souled man, whose pathetic remorse over his relapses into a habit which has him shackled for life—"last time, Clement, my boy," have a certain humor in spite of their tragic pathos.

One is led to wonder how far Dickens' creation of Sydney Carton was behind the playwright's conception of Dick Phenyl. We can conceive of Sydney drifting along, sustained by some such blessed vision of unattainable love for a good woman as he had, even to such a suicidal end as we can see Dick's will be, however happy a consummation all the other threads of the story are leading to. We can readily believe that Dick Phenyl, under other and less fortunate circumstances, would have gone to the block as did his prototype of fiction.

While commendation must be accorded to Mr. Terry's company as a thoroughly well-selected one, it must be confessed that the superlatives can only be used in support of the feminine section of his support. We could suggest many reasons why no lover is convincing, no matter how sincere the stage presentation of the object of his adoration. But while Mr. Madgewick escaped being caught in the mesh of some of these, he unfortunately has not yet overcome a tendency to stagnate. The actor who essays a nasal tone which is only to be heard—as an Hibernian bull—in fiction, Mr. Pateman had but a small time on the stage, but enough to show what a capable actor he is.

Miss Leigh, a lady of charming face and fine figure, is equally admirable as an actress. Her impersonation of the chief character of the play, which is not Sweet Lavender, was in every way what one would desire. Miss Barton filled a difficult role with dignity and strength, and proved herself a finished actress. The character work of Miss Rayner was excellent. In the title role Miss Rayner gave us the gentle, modest, sweet and perfectly lovable creature that Lavender must have been.

All in all, "Sweet Lavender" is of a school that we see too little of. Pity we cannot see more of that school and more of Edward Terry.

SALARIES OF MISSIONARIES.

Calgary, March 9.—At yesterday's session of the Calgary Presbytery's annual meeting, an important step was taken when a motion to raise the salaries of those serving in permanent mission fields was passed. By the new arrangement, unmarried men will get $500 per annum, while married men will get $1,000. This motion will have to receive ratification of the general assembly, however. The report on the motion for church union, especially in its favor, passed, 24 to 2.

RESIGNS PASTORATE.

New York, March 9.—Rev. Charles F. Aked has resigned the pastorate of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church and will accept the call to the First Congregational church of San Francisco. His resignation, effective April 9, has been accepted by the board of trustees. Dr. Aked refused to comment on his resignation, but will issue another statement to the congregation Sunday.

RAILWAY RATES.

Washington, D. C., March 9.—With the filing by the Pennsylvania railroad of new schedules cancelling proposed advances, the fight of the railroads against the interstate commerce commission's decision preventing higher rates, came to an end. The New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio and the Erie railroads promised to follow suit within two days.

COMPANIES' ACT AGAIN CONDEMNED

MAY TIE UP COMMERCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Member of Vancouver Board of Trade Urges Appeal
to Ottawa

Vancouver, March 8.—A large number of questions of immediate importance to the welfare of Vancouver and the province were raised at the annual meeting of the board of trade. The necessity of a modification of the Companies' Act, the want of a compulsory measure of education with child labor, and the need of an industrial home were among the matters discussed.

The following was the result of the election of officers for 1911: President, A. G. McAndrew; vice-president, F. L. Carter-Cotton; council, Messrs. W. H. Malkin, H. A. Stone, C. Buchanan, C. E. Tisdall, W. Godfrey, Ald. Jonathan Rogers, A. B. Erskine, D. Von Cramer, F. T. Walker, R. P. McLennan, James Ramsay, E. H. Heaps, Geo. L. Teller, Gilbert Blair and Walter Hepburn. The first twelve constitute a board of arbitration.

The new president, in taking the chair, declared that as one of the newer members of the board, he desired to pay a tribute to those who had been in harness for over twenty years. He regarded these "old timers" as a body of men, of whom the whole membership and the city had reason to be proud. He, however, believed that the introduction of young blood would be an advantage both to the youthful commercial men of the city and to the board as a whole.

R. Robertson, a member of the committee which submitted the demand of the board for a modification in the Companies' Act to the provincial government, submitted the report. He claimed that he had failed to find a single man who could say anything in favor of the act outside the Hon. the Attorney-General. If the measure were enforced, he believed that it would completely tie up the commerce of the country. The report was adopted. It stated that the Vancouver representatives had joined the Victoria board in pressing for modifications of the Bulk Sales Act, the taxation of personal property, the encouragement of settlement and the registration of extra-provincial companies.

Alderman Rodgers, in moving the adoption of the report, referred to the grave necessity for the securing of more settlers. He thought that the advent of large numbers of people would live on the land and develop it would eradicate the injurious spirit of speculation.

G. A. Campbell contended that the Dominion government ought to be appealed to in order that business men might achieve some relief from the absurd Companies' Act. He said that the attorney-general had declared in the House that no reliable firm had been inconvenienced by the act. Mr. Campbell said that the government had at that time the names of twelve large concerns, including Messrs. Rylands of Manchester, one of the greatest mercantile organizations in the world, declining to conduct business under the conditions created by the act.

W. H. Malkin thought that the government's idea was to equalize business chances and to assist the firm who paid taxes. They intended to prevent foreign firms coming in and doing business and contributing nothing to the resources of the country. He thought there were two sides to the question.

R. Robertson admitted that outside companies should be charged a nominal fee but submitted that the registration of mortgages by foreign concerns at Victoria was wholly unnecessary. F. W. Buchanan mentioned that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association were conducting an inquiry into the whole matter.

It was resolved to refer the matter to the new council.

MORMON CHURCH WELCOMES INQUIRY

Investigation to Be Made Into Charges Against Missionaries in England

Salt Lake, Utah, March 8.—Referring to a London cablegram just received, in which it was stated that Home Secretary Churchill, in the House of Commons, said that an exhaustive investigation would be made of a charge that missionaries of the Mormon church were actively engaged in inducing young girls to emigrate to Utah, President Joseph F. Smith, of the Mormon church, said to-day:

"We would heartily welcome such an investigation on the part of the British government. I sincerely hope that Home Secretary Churchill will carry the investigation to the end. It will do the church a vast amount of good and will set false charges at rest."

BANK ROBBERY.

Colon, March 8.—A search was instituted to-day for C. G. Williams, a draughtsman, whom the police say led the band which robbed the Panama bank here Monday night of $16,000, overlooking $100,000 in currency. The robbers rented a house near the institution and tunneled into the bank.

THINKING THEMES BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

The only way to know a race is to be born of it. You can never learn it by study, or by "mingling" with or "going down" into it. Real knowledge of this sort begins with one's grandmother. When Owen Kildare writes of the slums of New York, or Israel Zangwill of the Jews, or Paul Lawrence Dunbar of the Negroes, or Robert Burns of the native Scotch, or James Whitcomb Riley of Indiana, or Frederic Mistral of Provence, they give you a certain flavor that defies imitation. It behooved even the Captain of our Salvation to be born of a woman. If He was to know this flesh.

Having been born of a people, you must spend your childhood among them. The impressions received during the first dozen years of life enter most deeply into our character. We never quite get away from them. When we grow old they return fresher than any other part of our experience. The man of 40 remembers better what happened to him at 10 than what occurred when he was 40. Youth never entirely leaves us. At five's evening it often breaks out in us, like the dear sunlight peeping forth at twilight under a dull November cloud. Old Jack Falstaff, hard and wicked and soiled, after a lewd and coarse career, as he lay on his death-bed, "fumbled with the sheets, and played with flowers, and smiled upon his fingers' ends, and babbled of green fields."

SEATTLE TO BUILD ELECTRIC RAILWAY

Line to Build to Renton Valley —Intended as Beginning of Complete System

Seattle, Wash., March 8.—The $500,000 bond issue, authorized at the civic election, is to build or buy a street railway line into the Renton Valley. The line will be conducted under municipal control, and is intended as the beginning of a complete municipal trolley system that may eventually take over the private monopoly now enjoyed by the Seattle Electric Company.

The councilmen elected are: Oliver T. Erickson, Robert B. Hesketh, Austen Grimthorpe, Max Wardell, P. S. Steiner, E. L. Blaine, A. P. Haas, A. J. Goddard and J. Y. C. Kellogg. Joe Smith, Mayor Dilling's private secretary, missed election by about 400 votes under Kellogg. Wardell, Blaine, Goddard and Kellogg are members of the present council.

FOR CONTROL OF COMMERCE ON PACIFIC

Vice-President of U. S. Navy League on Japan's Aspirations

Los Angeles, Cal., March 8.—"We are face to face with the most remarkable period of world history," said Lincoln C. Cummins, of Baltimore, honorary vice-president, at the closing session of the Navy League yesterday. He was discussing "world leadership on the Pacific."

"Japan in the course of the past 50 years has adopted western civilization," he continued. "She is experiencing not so much evolution as revolution in education, business and almost in religion."

"Japan, of course, aspires to the leadership of China as well as the mastery of commerce on the Pacific."

"While the Panama canal will strategically give us a real advantage in being able to move our battle fleets from one coast to the other, and thus to meet an enemy from any direction, yet, owing to the great volume of trade which will flow through the canal and the consequent increased responsibilities we shall confront, we shall require a very strong navy."

"Great as our progress in the building of a navy has been, the country has not as yet fully awakened to the importance and potentiality of the subject."

"A navy cannot be built in a day, or at the critical moment when it may be required. Its construction and readiness represents provident forethought and prior preparations, without which is weakness."

"If the United States requires any navy, it logically follows that to be of any value that navy must needs equal any possible opponent, and its theoretical opponents' tonnage in sight should be the practical guide of ours. Failure of the maintenance of such a nation will just so far endanger theoretical peace and safety. It is not, then, a question of sentiment, of economy or even of humanity, but of hard pan-national business sense, in the arbitrament of which all commercial organizations and citizens should interest themselves to-day."

Other addresses by E. K. Roden, on "The Navy League and the Limitation of Armament," and of Frank J. Symmes, on "Shall we lead or follow on the Pacific," also were delivered at the morning session.

COMPANIES' ACT AGAIN CONDEMNED

MAY TIE UP COMMERCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Member of Vancouver Board of Trade Urges Appeal
to Ottawa

Vancouver, March 9.—A large number of questions of immediate importance to the welfare of Vancouver and the province were raised at the annual meeting of the board of trade. The necessity of a modification of the Companies' Act, the want of a compulsory measure of education with child labor, and the need of an industrial home were among the matters discussed.

The following was the result of the election of officers for 1911: President, A. G. McCandless; vice-president, F. L. Carter-Cotton; council, Messrs. W. H. Malkin, H. A. Stone, G. Buchanan, C. E. Tisdall, W. Godfrey, A. H. Jonathan, Rogers, A. B. Erskine, D. Von Cramer, F. T. Walker, R. P. McLennan, James Ramsay, E. H. Hoops, Geo. L. Telfer, Gilbert Blair and Walter Hopburn. The first twelve constitute a board of arbitration.

The new president, in taking the chair, declared that as one of the newer members of the board, he desired to pay a tribute to those who had been in harness for over twenty years. He regarded these "old timers" as a body of men, of whom the whole membership and the city had reason to be proud. He, however, believed that the introduction of young blood would be an advantage both to the youthful commercial men of the city and to the board as a whole.

R. Robertson, a member of the committee which submitted the demand of the board for a modification in the Companies' Act to the provincial government, submitted the report. He claimed that he had failed to find a single man who could say anything in favor of the act outside the Hon. the Attorney-General. If the measure was enforced, he believed that it would completely tie up the commerce of the country. The report was adopted. It stated that the Vancouver representatives had joined the Victoria board in pressing for modifications of the Bulk Sales Act, the taxation of personal property, the encouragement of settlers and the registration of extra-provincial companies.

Admiral Rodgers, in moving the adoption of the report, referred to the grave necessity for the securing of more settlers. He thought that the advent of large numbers of people who would live on the land and develop it would eradicate the injurious spirit of speculation.

G. A. Campbell contended that the Dominion government ought to be appealed to in order that business men might achieve some relief from the absurd Companies' Act. He said that the attorney-general had declared in the House that no reliable firm had been inconvenienced by the act. Mr. Campbell said that the government had at that time the names of twelve large concerns, including Messrs. Rylands of Manchester, one of the greatest mercantile organizations in the world, declining to conduct business under the conditions created by the act.

W. H. Malkin thought that the government's idea was to equalize business chances and to assist the firm who paid taxes. They intended to prevent foreign firms coming in and doing business and contributing nothing to the resources of the country. He thought there were two sides to the question.

R. Robertson admitted that outside companies should be charged a nominal fee but submitted that the registration of mortgages by foreign concerns at Victoria was wholly unnecessary. Ewing Buchanan mentioned that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association were conducting an inquiry into the whole matter.

It was resolved to refer the matter to the new council.

Investigation to Be Made Into Charges Against Missionaries in England

Salt Lake, Utah, March 9.—Referring to a London cablegram just received, in which it was stated that Home Secretary Churchill, in the House of Commons, said that an exhaustive investigation would be made of a charge that missionaries of the Mormon church were actively engaged in inducing young girls to emigrate to Utah, President Joseph F. Smith, of the Mormon church, said to-day:

"We would heartily welcome such an investigation on the part of the British government. I sincerely hope that Home Secretary Churchill will carry the investigation to the end. It will do the church a vast amount of good and will set false charges at rest."

BANK ROBBERY.

Colon, March 8.—A search was instituted to-day for C. G. Williams, a draughtsman, whom the police say led the band which robbed the Panama bank here Monday night of $16,000, oversteering $100,000 in currency. The robbers rented a house near the institution and tunneled into the bank.

SIR WM. VAN HORNE'S NIGHT-MARE.

Sir William Van Horne, when he first received the intimation of the proposed reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada, was so overcome by patriotic emotion that he could not utter more than a few words about the "shameful thing." But Sir William, after time had somewhat soothed his feelings, gathered sufficient strength to give utterance to two columns of printed denunciation of the proposal. Space will not permit an enumeration of all the disasters this millionaire capitalist, the foundations for whose fortune and knighthood were laid in Canada, foresees in reciprocity. Yet it is not difficult to gather from Sir William's direful forebodings that it is the spectre of one James J. Hill, a Canadian who made his millions in the United States in the same line of business as Sir William made his millions in Canada, that moves him to wrathful expressions. Now it may be well to bear in mind that Sir William Van Horne, while he denounces the idea of the common Canadian people being given larger opportunities of doing business in the United States, does not by any means practise what he preaches. He has taken a good deal of the money he made in Canada and invested it elsewhere—in any country which promised him handsome dividends. In this respect Sir William is in precisely the same position as another of his millionaire contemporaries and fellow knight commanders, Sir Edmund Walker. The bankers of Canada, of whom Sir Edmund is not the least in point of importance, lent one hundred and thirty millions of dollars, all collected from the people of Canada in the regular course of business, upon the New York market last year. There was no disloyalty in that. But, if so, why should there be a suggestion of disloyalty in the ordinary people of Canada and of the United States doing business with one another in a smaller way, such as a mutually profitable exchange of the products of the soil? If promoting commercial intercourse between Canada and the United States smacks of disloyalty and portends disaster, why did Sir William Van Horne countenance the construction of lines of railway across the border into the United States? Are we to be told that railways running from south to north tend to national disruption, while railways running from north to south make for national solidarity and security? Or is it that Sir William Van Horne thinks the people of Canada are so lacking in understanding that they cannot draw logical conclusion from certain palpable facts?

THE COMPANIES' ACT.

The Vancouver Board of Trade is still wrestling with the Companies' Act, which is one of the pet bills put through by Hon. W. J. Bowser, but which he has never yet had the hardihood to strictly enforce. The matter was at the general meeting of the board referred to the new council for action. One of the members of the Vancouver board contended that an appeal should be made to the Dominion Government in order to secure relief. Another member said he had failed to find a single man outside of the Attorney-General who had anything to say in favor of the Act. If it were enforced he believed the commerce of the province would be paralyzed.

During the sittings of the legislature, just as business was being closed for the year, Mr. Bowser challenged the opposition leader to give the names of any firms which had been prevented from doing business in this province through the operation of the Act. On the following day Mr. Brewster read the names of a number of very prominent British firms which had refused to register according to the new Act and withdrew their operations here. The result of this withdrawal is proving a great hardship to some individuals and a set-back to the province as a whole. Anything which tends to the restriction of trade is always found to be a handicap to the country. Mr. Bowser cares nothing for the country. His only desire is to push through certain schemes of his own, whether they be for the general benefit or not. The business men of Vancouver and Victoria are just as much opposed to the measure as ever, and will not be content with anything less than its repeal.

MAKING A TOOL OF CONSERVATIVE PARTY.

The Conservative party is at the present time being used as a tool by the big manufacturers of Ontario. Toronto is the centre from which the strings are being pulled, and the rest of the party is expected to dance to the tunes set. The people are to do the dancing while the owners of the machine, the manufacturers, rake in the dollars. By means of the "free and independent voters" the manufacturers expect to be able to continue to extract the highest prices from the people of Canada.

Someone suggests that the manufacturers are not concerned in reciprocity, but that the farmers are the only ones who are interested. That is anything but the truth. The duties on implements and machinery are reduced, although they still remain fairly high. The manufacturers will lose that much. There is also an apprehension on their part that the British preference is to be increased, which means of course another lowering of duties. While they are intensely loyal, the manufacturers would very much dislike the people to gain anything by that loyalty while they were deprived of some of their pickings. Loyalty with them is simply something to be talked about, to be an excuse for shouting and waving the flag. They are as much averse to increasing the British preference as they are to improved trade relations with the United States. They also realize that if the people once feel the benefits which will be derived from a lowering of the duties, there will be a demand for further reductions in other lines, and that they will have to take their chances in competition with the rest of the world and be content with reasonable profits.

If anyone doubts that the manufacturers are behind the present movement they have only to read the Eastern newspapers. There they will see that the manufacturers and those connected with all the big interests are the ones who are engineering the agitation against reciprocity. They will see that large sums of money are being spent in advertising and advancing protectionist and monopolistic interests. Even the Manitoba Free Press a few days ago had a full page advertisement which has been running through practically all the big Eastern journals giving fallacious reasons against confirming the reciprocal agreement.

Seeing that they have with them a group of men who are willing to put up the money, the Conservatives are making a great fuss. The big machine has been set in motion with the idea of influencing the people. They bring forward specious arguments in regard to loyalty, imperialism, and every other cry that the Conservative politician has from time immemorial used for his own purposes, all with a view to humbugging the people. Some people like to be humbugged. Some people like to be preyed upon by those better off than themselves. Many people have not sense enough to see when they are being fooled. The great mass of the people, however, are wise, and they are able to see the fallacy of the arguments presented.

THE STAGE.

At the meeting presided over by Dean Doull and addressed by Edward Terry, the actor, yesterday afternoon, the value of the drama was emphasized, and especially its value from a moral and educative point of view. It was shown that the legitimate drama was closely connected with the church in its aims and objects. It was also shown that when the religious and moral life of the people was at its highest point the drama also attained its most elevating character.

We have before spoken of the value of the stage as an educator. We have tried to show that the appeal of the actor to the average man is very strong, rivaling in some respects that of the church, and often influencing people whom the church does not touch. The keen interest taken everywhere in high class plays is an evidence that the higher exponents of the drama are appreciated, and that, while people look for amusement to the theatre, they also look to the same place for intellectual development, food for thought, and high class art.

There are still a good many people who do not attend theatrical performances, as they esteem them either a sinful waste of time or absolutely degrading. Many of these people have never attended the performance of a high class play. They judge from hearsay. If they have been to the theatre, the chances are it was to a cheap "show" of the third grade. Many people who would look upon taking the family to the theatre as something not to be thought of will slip into the vaudeville or moving picture establishments and sit in a corner during a spare hour.

The man or woman who is always looking for that which is low, debasing or bestial will find it almost anywhere. They certainly will not find it any more at a first-class theatrical play than they will at a church concert or young people's society. There are times when a person is deluded into going to hear something which he or she would prefer not to have attended, and there are plays which are certainly of a degrading tone. A reformation will not be secured, however, by staying away from the theatre altogether, but rather by patronizing that which is best and giving the cold shoulder to that which is not up to the standard. If it is made worth while to produce the very best, that is what we shall see most of. A judicious combination of pressure of public opinion and official regulation should in a short time eliminate altogether that which is vulgar or suggestive and replace it with pure humor, elevating life studies and high art.

The New York Tribune says editorially that reciprocity between Canada and the United States will indefinitely delay the absorption of the former by the latter.

In a recent interview Sir William Mackenzie intimated that he thought Halifax would be used as the winter port of the Canadian Northern Railway. Halifax will be getting quite "up-plush" at having so many big liners making their headquarters at that port.

There is still time for those who wish to make donations towards relieving the sufferers from the famine in China. Subscriptions may be left at the Colonial or Times business offices, or with Miss Caroline Mackie, 1126 Richardson street.

A. G. McCandless, formerly mayor of Victoria, has been elected to the position of President of the Board of Trade in Vancouver. We congratulate Mr. McCandless upon his elevation to the important position, which he is well qualified to fill with credit to himself and to the advantage of the board.

The dredger for use at the entrance of Vancouver harbor has arrived, and a still more complicated machine for Victoria is on the way. Almost every day evidences of the work of the Dominion Government on this coast are seen. New lighthouses, buoys and beacons are being erected as fast as conditions warrant.

Edward Terry, when speaking yesterday, mentioned that not only did he refer in some of his remarks to the members of the theatrical profession, but also to the performers at the variety shows. The distinction was rather amusing as showing the point of view of what is known as "legitimate" actors towards the new variety movement.

The people of England are trying their best to make the late King Manuel of Portugal into a Britisher. Already his ex-Majesty has been initiated into the mysteries of golf, but is not yet sufficiently proficient to commence scoring. According to his friends he is "shaping well." If Manuel is ever to set within shouting distance of the record of our own Harvey Combe he should be admitted to British citizenship.

A petition is being circulated in the British House of Commons urging upon Premier Asquith the advisability of forming an Imperial Advisory Council. Imperial federation seems much more practical at present than free trade within the Empire, with a tariff wall against all outsiders. The latter proposal is becoming obsolete. The Empire cannot become rich and powerful without having the freest possible trade relations with the whole world.

The Vancouver Board of Trade is anxious to have settlers brought into the province, for the reason that such settlers will fill up the vacant lands and tend to eradicate the injurious spirit of speculation. This is all nonsense. The spirit of speculation will be increased by the increase in population. It is only by seeing that the lands pass into the hands of none but those who will settle on them that the spirit of speculation can be to any extent stayed. This the provincial government has refused to do.

ENGLISH MAJOR INQUIRES ABOUT US

Retails a Variety of "Wants" That Vancouver Island Can Well Supply

The arm of the law is notoriously long, but it is a questionable proposition if it is as long as the reach of advertisement. An example of the extraordinary lineal capacity of advertisement has just been furnished by one of the clients of the Victoria branch of the Vancouver Island Development League who has written for further information concerning the facilities of the island, not for one particular branch of activity, but for practically every sphere of human operation. If it does not fulfill the requirements he may, probably favor some other parts of the map with his presence.

The name of this potential Canadian is Major W. Scharlieb, and he resides in that famous old English constituency of Chamberlayne, Surrey. This is what he says: "I am one of a party who propose to take up farming in Vancouver Island and we would be most grateful for such particulars as would enable us to make the best location. I may quote my case as being typical of the others. I have a wife and two children. I am 44 years of age, and am neither used to nor capable of much hard manual labor. I have £200 income and a capital of £1,500. I need scarcely say that we want to make money by our venture, but an absolutely healthy locality is the first essential. We should like some sport, too, shooting, fishing, boating, etc., and we should prefer to be by the sea, but health is the first consideration, and money comes next—amusements must come last."

Everyone will agree that the requisites thus demanded in one particular locality are usually to be found scattered over a wide area, and yet in the same breath it will be acknowledged that Vancouver Island is just the one place in the English-speaking world to-day where all the desiderata will find fulfillment.

Needless to say the necessary information has been forwarded, and it is certainly that within a very short time Vancouver Island will be the home of this inquirer as well as the home of the party to which he refers.

SPORT EXHIBIT RETURNS.

Provincial Specimens Won Many Prizes at Intermediate Show in Vienna.

The representative exhibit of British Columbia at the recent International Sportsmen's Show at Vienna has just returned to Victoria. Coincident with the return of the exhibit is the arrival of the report on the same by Warburton Pike, the famous naturalist who was in charge of the exhibit. In his report Mr. Pike says:

"Eleven of the best British Columbia sportsmen's heads were entered for the competition. In the caribou, mule deer and sheep classes, winning four firsts, four seconds and three thirds.

It was only in the Ovis Stenolepis class that the governments entry failed to win the first prize, being beaten by a specimen from the Cassiar district, killed by an Austrian sportsman. A medal for excellence was also awarded to the British Columbia exhibit, and it is worthy of mention from the fact that this distinction was only awarded to six collections out of the many entries from all parts of the world. In scientific circles the British Columbia collection was much appreciated, as the western animals are poorly represented in the European museums. Many requests for specimens from British Columbia were made by the directors of the most important museum of the large cities, the White Ursus Kermodei being the great attraction, as it was the first specimen to reach Europe.

Judge Lamppan yesterday denied his decision in the claim for work done and the counter claim for damages, brought in the action of Gelger against Hickey.

—John Murray, a fireman on the steamer Princess Mary, lies in a precarious condition at the Royal Jubilee hospital as a result of a fall down a flight of stairs at the Royal Arms hotel, Store street, yesterday afternoon. Murray roomed there and was found at the foot of the stairs in an unconscious condition, as the result of his fall. He is believed by Dr. G. A. B. Hall to have sustained a fracture of the skull. When the proprietor of the saloon was started, yesterday afternoon, by a heavy fall, and found Murray unconscious, he at once communicated with the police, and the patrol wagon conveyed the injured man to the hospital. Murray fell on his head and shoulders, and, being a heavily built man, the concussion was severe.

—The Saanich Choral Society will give its first concert at the new parish hall, Cedar Hill, to-night, starting at 8. The chorus of 20 mixed voices has been practising for some time, and will appear to advantage in "The Miller's Wooing" (Eaton Fanning), "Break, Break, Break" (Eaton Fanning), and "R. B. Mackenzie" will each give two numbers. One of Miss Cocker's songs will be "Lost Chord," with piano and organ accompanying. The choir is conducted by Capt. H. J. Ross Cullin, whilst A. Dobson is in charge of the organ and piano, assisted by Miss S. Miller. E. Howard Russell will accompany Mr. Mackenzie. To enable those who wish to go to town to do so, the B. C. E. railway will run a car to Mount Tolmie, leaving Yates and Government streets at 7 p.m., and returning from Mount Tolmie at 10:50 p.m.

—The Winnipeg Salvation Army silver band, which is paying Victoria a three days' visit, is a musical combination of 35 pieces, as well as worth hearing. The tour is covering several weeks, and by the time they return to Winnipeg the bandmen will have visited all the Canadian cities as well as the larger towns west of Winnipeg. So far they have been well received, and kindly entertained wherever they have gone. While in Victoria it is intended to take them around the city in automobiles, and show them the chief points of interest. Anyone having a motor that will not be in use Saturday afternoon and who would be willing to loan it for an hour or two for this purpose could notify the officers here. The public is invited to attend the special services which will be held in the Salvation Army citadel on Broad street, with the exception of Sunday night, which will be in the Victoria theatre.

The coolness of his reception and the knowledge having been conveyed to him that the police had been sent for, acted as a brake upon his joviality, and he departed while it was yet possible. He was out of the reserve when the police reached there.

THE ADVANCE MAN

"Raffles" To-night
William C. Dowlan, who, with his company, will open a short season at the Victoria theatre to-night is one of the most accomplished and successful leading men known throughout the United States. Mr. Dowlan was for two years with the Bush Temple Stock Company in Chicago, one season at Proctor's, 5th avenue, New York, and for three years the idolized leading man of the Seattle theatre, Seattle. In the character of "Raffles" it is claimed that William C. Dowlan has no peer, and this with all due respect to Kyrle Belew, who originated the part. He was especially selected in New York as "a type" and for twelve months toured the United States as the celebrated fictional "amateur crackman."

Supporting him is Miss Leonora Ainsworth, who, as his leading lady, is well known in the East, notably for her successful career in Pittsburgh, where she recently concluded a long season in stock. Perhaps the most comprehensive description of Miss Ainsworth is summed up in the three words dainty, captivating, and clever. As "Gwendoline Conroy" in "Raffles," she is undoubtedly at her best.

Richard Scott is the idealization of "Captain Bedford." Guy Drury, who plays Lord Amerasteth, is an English actor of many years' experience, in they extend a very cordial invitation to the public generally to attend. The regiment's fine band, under the leadership of Bandmaster Rogers, will render the following programme:

March—National Emblem..... Bagley

Waltz—Casino Tansie..... Sinell
Caprice-poetic—A Shower of Smiles..... Bailey

—A concert in celebration of St. Patrick's day will be given on the evening of the 17th at Institute hall, under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. A committee is busy with the arrangements for making the concert the best of the series yet held. A lecture will be delivered by Rev. Dr. O'Boyle, O. M. I., New Westminster.

his earlier days associated with Miss Ellen Terry and her brother Charles. Harry Love, Miss Gwynne Sterling, Miss Florence Merritt, Miss Harriet Fairchild, and Miss Sadie Scott, all carefully selected and accomplished artists go to complete a programme which will, without doubt, prove to be most interesting.

"Father and the Boys."
That very capable character comedian, William H. Turner, who is credited with over sixteen hundred performances of the laughing success, "David Harum," in his heyday will be seen at the Victoria theatre next Tuesday, in "Father and the Boys," a comedy dealing with American types of the day. This is an idea of its story. Lemuel Norwood has made a fortune in wool. His son William comes from college imbued with the idea that society demands the best efforts of his life, while another son, Thomas, is consumed with a desire to shine as an athlete. Neither son will listen to the calls of business and the father in despair seeing his pet desire that his sons should follow in his footsteps in the wool trade coming to naught, determines to plunge into the gay life to teach the boys a lesson.

In doing this he succeeds in his object and at the same time enjoys to the full the things in life that have played no part in his quiet life for he sees the limit as a gay old boy. However, everything rights itself, the boys are won over to the business career, there is some incidental love-making and wedding bells at the finish. It is a merry play of many complications and a finished performance is promised at the hands of Mr. Turner, his bright and talented leading lady, Edith Yeager, and the others.

—The United Commercial Travellers' annual convention will be held in this city on May 10 and 20. The local branch is in charge of the arrangements, and efforts are being made to make the convention the most successful ever held.

—The B. Y. P. U. of First Baptist church is to give a "butterfly social" next Monday evening. A good programme is being prepared, and the members of the social committee promise an enjoyable and unique entertainment for all members and friends of the society.

Mr. West, ever since he came to Victoria, has been working quietly among

In order to bring the season in Victoria to a close in a blaze of glory, Mr. ... is working hard to have the annual tournament for the championship of British Columbia held in this city. The only difficulty in the way of staging the bouts here is the fact that, as there will no doubt be a large number of entries, the tournament will take several days to run off. At least half of the entries will be from Vancouver and the Terminal City fencers do not quite like the idea of leaving their businesses so long.

A mtg will be held on Monday night and the cases of the four teams in question will be up for trial. In the meantime the Island league soccer matches will go on. Letters will, however, be sent to the president of the newly formed league (it can hardly be called amateur now) warning him against McKay and McDonald. So far, the retary Brace was also given the go ahead to look into Joe Dakers' standing and he could prove them. Dakers played for the old Island soccer league to prohibit him playing further in the n

It was agreed that C. Baker, Brown, and A. Campbell, soccer players, who had applied for re-instatement some time ago, should be given their amateur cards forthwith.

Douglas Campbell is the new delegate from the North Ward club. Others present were: President D. Tait, Secretary A. J. Brace, George Okell, V. W. A. A. Messer, G. Sullivan, and Manion, Foresters, G. O'Sullivan, and J. P. Sweeney, J. B. A. D. Locksley, Esquimalt Athletic Association.

This match, although technical, was a speaking, only a practice game, realising that the championship of Victoria was settled the day before. There was no dispute between the two fives as to which team has the right to claim that honor. The teams were:

Victoria.		Wanderers.
Gilbon	Goal	F
Burrett (capt.)	Point	McNee
Hodgett	Centre	Middleton
Harling	Right Wing	Jones (capt.)

The representative Victoria five was chosen from both of these teams.

At the meeting of the Lacrosse association executive held on Tuesday night it was decided that the annual F. Eagles' hall, and it is hoped that even a man or boy who plays lacrosse in Victoria will be present. From the report of the finance committee it was learned that the association had still a balance in the bank, left over from last year. This is a matter for congratulation, as it is the first time the association has been able to keep its treasury above water. Let alone make money.

Up in that burg of about 2,000 people they hold a boxing tournament every two weeks or so. Not only are the men holding championships of the away unheard of places in that town but there are also quite a number of very clever wrestlers. That is, I was clever. Just a short time ago a little Jap, weighing hardly over 100 pounds, drifted into town, and the night cleaned up the whole bunch. The husky Scotchmen are now wandering around with a sacred and very puzzled look on their faces. The Jap, whose name is as big as he is small, is to be an expert in jiu-jitsu wrestling. Now only one thing is certain: no man in town and to forfeit he cannot put his opponent's shoulder to the mat within five minutes.

Acting Chief of Police Claudenick has rescinded the order forbidding the holding of wrestling matches in Seattle, and arrangements are now being made to match George Hackenschmidt, the Russian wrestler, with a local opponent. Acting Chief Bannick said that his ruling was the result of a misunderstanding.

Joe Reynolds has been appointed captain of the Vancouver Maple Leafs for the coming season. The Maple Leafs committee who have had the matter in hand are generally agreed to have made a wise selection.

Ad. Wolgast and Packey McFadden are to meet in a ten-round bout here.

EDWARD TERRY'S PLEA FOR ACTORS

Advocates Establishment of Actors' Church Union in All Large Cities

The status of the actor as a concrete proposition was discussed freely in the Broad Street hall yesterday afternoon, when, by the grace of the Victoria Amateur Dramatic Club, Edward Terry, the prince of English comedians, was present in the body to sustain the "profession's" end of the case, which he did in such a conclusive and frankly convincing manner that hereafter all those whose religious traditions have led them to hold the theatre in anathema will no longer be able to claim unction for their self-restraints. The glory of such self-denial is departed and "Ishabod" is writ over the vacant portal.

This gratifying result was accomplished without any effort on the part of Mr. Terry to prove the essential relationship between the church and the stage. He did not attempt to prove anything, save perhaps that there was suffering humanity behind the glare of the footlights as well as beyond the theatre. He endeavored to explain that the humanity which received the moral and spiritual ministrations of the church did not all flow past the theatre; that much of it was within throbbing for the consolation that was not forthcoming because, forsooth, the brand of kinship could not be identified in the glaring light. He came to make a simple plea, and he made it with the pathetic earnestness of the man who knows from experience that his plea is a worthy one, that the line which had hitherto been drawn between the church and the stage should be removed, and that the city of Victoria should place itself in line with the other great cities on the American continent by forming a local branch of the Actors' Church Union, an institution that has been formed

In England, and which has received the heartiest endorsement of the Bishop of London, or of the Actors' Church Alliance, formed on this continent.

The object of the Union and Alliance alike is to appoint a chaplain in every centre of the Dominion whose duty it shall be to see any members of a theatrical company, man or woman, English or American, or anyone else connected with the profession, who shall have become ill or in distress in any city, and safeguard them and give them help. Already Mr. Terry has interviewed the archbishops of Rupertland and Ottawa, the bishops of Nova Scotia, Fredericton, Montreal, Toronto, Niagara and Calgary, "all broad-minded men," said Mr. Terry, "who have every sympathy with the movement."

Winnipeg has already appointed a chaplain. There is to be a meeting of the bishops next month to consider the matter, and in the meantime Mr. Terry will make his report to England.

The incident which first brought to Mr. Terry's mind the great need and usefulness of such a union, seeing how the actor and the actress travel, nowadays, to every part of the world, was a pathetic one. It was in Johannesburg, where Kate Vaughan lay dying, 7,000 miles from home, and no one to confide in. Edward Terry, who twenty years before, had played at the Gaiety with this most delightful of dancers and most charming of actresses, was the only friend to hold her hand at the last moment.

That was the substance of his address, but Edward Terry, the speaker, cannot be summed up in a sentence. He is too complex to be categorized. He has as many sides as an obelisk and all of them are developed in the grand degree. He is at once the serious high-minded student, imbued with the spirit of religion, and the prodigious humorist, mentally inverting the world to admire or perhaps to exercise his own intellectual dexterity. He is a whole man with no links missing. His modest address made a marked impression on the large crowd present.

Dean Doull, vice-president of the club and chaplain for Victoria of the Actors' Church Alliance, introduced Mr. Terry graciously to his audience, and in so doing took the opportunity of reviewing the historical association of the church and the stage. From the ancient Greeks and the early Romans he traced their course to the renaissance and the reformation, explained their divorce and wound up a really delightful resume with the modern "entente cordiale."

C. H. Lugin moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Terry and asked the occasion to remark that hitherto they had not looked upon actors and actresses in the way they ought. They had been disposed to patronize, and of course the members of the profession would not stand for that.

Rev. Dr. Gray also spoke, referring to having seen Mr. Terry perform in the old Surrey theatre, London, forty-four years ago.

William Blackmore brought the proceedings to a close with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

The remainder of the afternoon was pleasantly filled in over the tea cups. Mrs. McBride, Mrs. Hasell, Mrs. G. A. Kirk, Mrs. Harry Pooley and Mrs. W. E. Scott acting as hostesses.

Several Transfers Were Granted Yesterday—H. B. Co. Scares Bottle License

The Licensing board, consisting of the Mayor, Ald. Ross and P. W. Vincent, sat for the first time this year, yesterday afternoon, and transacted all the business before it. The Mayor was not present at the commencement of the proceedings, although the other commissioners waited half an hour for him to appear. Fifteen minutes later His Worship arrived, just in time to grant the Pandora hotel transfer, and explained the cause of his delay, which had been caused by affairs of a private nature. The transfers granted by the board are as follows:

Caledonia saloon, Fred Lewis Smith to W. A. Gatt, and change of name to Light-house saloon.

Queen's hotel, William J. Ross to Frederick Lewis Smith.

Fountain saloon, George J. Brett to John Jones.

Bottle license (corner Douglas and Johnson streets), L. H. Pickard to Hudson's Bay Company, and to transfer same to Albert Quagliotti was granted, as was also an application for transfer of whole-sale license from John Robertson & Son, Ltd., to Harvey & Briggs, for premises on Wharf street.

A temporary permit was transferred in respect of the Victoria hotel from G. Grant to Joel Peden.

The application for transfer of license of the Pandora hotel from J. Hague Basutow and Stanley A. Hunt to their attorneys-in-fact, L. J. Quagliotti, to Albert Quagliotti was granted, as was also an application for transfer of whole-sale license from John Robertson & Son, Ltd., to Harvey & Briggs, for premises on Wharf street.

The certificate of conviction against C. Popovitch, Russ House saloon, for selling liquor to a minor was recorded.

A HARD FIGHT

THE STORY OF A FAILURE

The writer was called to the phone by a prominent attorney of San Francisco who said that a friend of his was dying of Bright's Disease and that if he could do anything to send the treatment and a physician. Both were sent. The doctor phoned back that the patient was at the end of a year's fight with chronic Bright's Disease and was almost a skeleton, and was in coma, and that the priests had administered the last rites, and that the attending physicians had told the patient's wife that it was only a question of hours and he declared with considerable spirit that he had practically been called in to sign the death certificate. The patient, a San Francisco business man, was in charge of the nurses. They said that nothing had passed into or out of the patient's stomach for twenty-four hours; that it had ceased to act—would not hold peptonized milk—and that they were waiting for the end. Our consulting physician did not think that there was one chance in a thousand, but that a hard fight for that chance. Jumping into a carriage, he went to Wakelee & Co.'s, procured a high twenty-inch tube and the necessary apparatus, and returned to the patient's home. The food was administered and withdrawn every three hours, night and day. The patient was given an alcohol and emulsion, rub alternately every three hours. He was given no food by the stomach for ten days except a little champagne and cracked ice. The fourth day he began to eat a little. The fourth day he was beginning to clear mentally. In two weeks his stomach began to accept chicken and solid foods. In a month he was walking around the room, and in two months (contrary to the strenuous advice of the physician) he insisted on taking a Southern trip. He was as strong as he thought and suffered a relapse. The physician was telegraphed for and went South to attend and expire without the trip and consequent relapse was so serious that the patient expired on arrival in San Francisco.

This was a battle against tremendous odds and it is our belief that it would have been won if the patient had followed the physician's advice and given up the trip until he was stronger.

The attorney mentioned who called us up by phone was the Hon. Farley Henry, the ex-member of Congress and well-known lawyer of San Francisco. His offices are in the Pacific Building on Market street and he will be glad to receive any facts to anyone who may be interested. We refer to this instance and his name in connection therewith without consent. We could hardly afford to do this if the above was not strictly true.

We consider the treatment that this physician used in this case to aid the patient as so important that it was at our request written up in detail giving the various prescriptions and formulae. We will mail it to physicians who may have critical cases like the above.

Bright's Disease is now curable in a great majority of all cases by the new emollient treatment—Fulton's Renal Compound. It may be had in your city of D. E. Fulton Co., 66 Battery street, San Francisco. We desire to hear from and advise with every case not making the usual recovery.

FOUR TEAMS WILL COMPETE FOR CUP

Prides to Enter Senior League
—Baseball Season Opens
on Sunday Morning

At a largely attended meeting held last night in the Pledge Club rooms, Johnson street, it was unanimously decided to enter a team under the Pledge colors in this city senior baseball league this season. This makes four entries in the race for the Pledge trophy and some exceedingly exciting games of amateur ball may be expected this summer. The teams are: Hills, Bays, Wards and Prides.

The last-mentioned club has been slower in organizing than the others, but the boys say they will have one of the best nines that can be got together. Several players from the mainland, now residing in Victoria, were present at the meeting and together with many local baseballers were signed on the team. Arrangements were made to purchase new baseball suits, the color chosen being maroon with white trimmings. It was also decided to give a dance in aid of the club, the date of which will be announced later.

Next Sunday morning will really open the baseball season in Victoria, for if the weather permits a large number of amateur baseball men and boys in the city will be out with ball and glove for the first practice of the year.

At Beacon Hill the Hills will have all their players out, seniors, intermediates and quite possibly juniors, and the elimination trials will be at once begun. Those who cannot make the senior team will be relegated to the intermediate. On the same morning the Prides will hold a practice at Oak Bay and a full attendance of the players is requested.

TOO MANY PLAYERS ON LACROSSE TEAM

President Lindsay, of Montreal Club, Wants Field Reduced in Size

Montreal, March 9.—At the annual meeting of the National Lacrosse Union in Toronto next month, President W. E. Findlay of the Montreal Lacrosse Club, will make a suggestion, in fact, will put it before the meeting as a resolution, that may make a great change in the national game. Mr. Findlay's proposition in brief is to reduce the size of the field and to reduce the size of the teams.

Mr. Findlay proposes to reduce the length of the field to 100 yards between goals and the teams to ten men each. At the present time the rules call for a distance of at least 120 yards between goals but while the rule sets a minimum distance it says nothing whatever about a maximum distance. Thus, on some grounds the limit is 120 yards, while on other the distance is much greater.

By making a uniform distance and by limiting the distance behind the goals in which the ball may be in play Mr. Findlay hopes to see a game developed that will appeal more strongly than ever to the spectators. By reducing the size of the field Mr. Findlay paves the way for the reduction of the number of men on the team. As the game is at present there are always spills during which players at one end or the other are comparatively idle. By reducing the teams and playing ten men a side Mr. Findlay anticipates that this objectionable feature can be eliminated. Another and probably still more important factor in the eyes of the professional clubs is the fact that a couple less players need be carried on the salary list, effecting a saving of possibly fifteen hundred dollars a year to some clubs.

ABOUT BASEBALL

Connie Mack is a born diplomat. In New York he said: "The Yankees have a great chance." When he arrived in Philadelphia he was again interviewed along the same lines. "The Athletics need be carried on the salary list, effecting a saving of possibly fifteen hundred dollars a year to some clubs."

All the clubs in the big league are now busy training, trying to get the veterans into condition and at the same time endeavoring to unearth some wonder. Last season the Chicago Cubs picked up the "find" of the country in King Cole. Cole came into the National League unheralded, but soon became a star. It was his great pitching which won the pennant for the Cubs. Cole performed something when the season's work is summed up, that few stars of the diamond have equalled. In his first year in the big bush he won four-fifths of his games. He took part in twenty-four contests and emerged victor out of twenty of them, with but four defeats charged against him. Spalding, Radbourne, Hoffer, Hughes, Chesbro, Doherty, Donovan, McGinnity, Wittke, Rubeck, Brown, Leever, Philippi, Camnitz, Bender, Mathewson and a couple of others come to mind as 300 pitchers, but Cole broke the record in making his record in the first year.

George Engle, the clever spitball pitcher, has not come to terms with Vancouver. He is in Seattle, and the trouble will probably hang fire until Bob Brown comes north from Los Angeles. Engle said yesterday that it was a case of financial difference that kept him and the club from getting together. Engle has been working daily at Woodland park for several weeks and is in condition to pitch league ball right now.

Pitchers are very important actors in a pennant drama. In last year's race the American League had the market pretty well cornered for good pitchers.

It was the superior twirling of Connie Mack's men that landed the world's series for the Athletics. The Cubs were unable to do anything with Coombs or Bender, while the Athletics had no trouble in connecting with the Windy City twirlers.

Mack has not disposed of any of his good men. Coombs, Bender and Plank are all there, and from present indications are in as good shape as ever. Bender led the American League pitchers last year with a percentage of .821, while Coombs was third with .775, and Plank ninth with .615. With three such men, and the large number of recruits from which to choose, the Athletics' pitching staff should be one of the best in the league.

RAY'S NEW SECRETARY.
Popular Oarsman Selected to Fill the Place of Vince Grey.

At a recent meeting of the James Bay Athletic Association, N. Kennedy, who has been a member of the club for years, was elected to the position of secretary. The former secretary, Vince Grey, was forced to resign owing to pressure of business.

Kennedy is considered the right man for the job. He will have a hard time doing as well as Mr. Grey, did, but he is a good worker and there is no doubt he will be a success in his new position.

W. N. KENNEDY.
Popular J. B. A. A. oarsman, who has been elected as secretary of the Association.

Port Arthur Wins First Game of Series With Prince Albert.

Winnipeg, March 9.—Port Arthur gained a lead of three goals in the first game of the series with Prince Albert to decide which is to go east after the Stanley cup. The game was played at the auditorium rink in the presence of 2,000 spectators. There was plenty of cheering, the crowd being very impartial. The general opinion is that there is not much chance of the cup leaving Ottawa, although no matter which team wins, the challengers are liable to give the cup holders some trouble.

The ice was sticky and heavy and this was a barrier to both teams, but the game was a strenuous affair. Heavy body checks were dealt out in large number and not for one moment was there a let-up, despite the fact that all through it was a grueling game. The final score was 6-3.

That the series will go to Port Arthur is the consensus of opinion, as it appears to be a better balanced team and better at combination work. McGregor and Wellington of the Ontario septette were particularly prominent and between them scored four of the six goals. Any chance that Prince Albert had was considerably lessened by the fact that Crawford repeatedly decorated the fence. It was during his absence that four of the goals were notched against his team. Prince Albert had the better of the play in the second half and was not allowed on goal about which there was a considerable difference of opinion.

"RAFFLES" TO-NIGHT.
Popular Comedy Will Be Presented at the Victoria.

The amateur crackman, or "Raffles," as he is more familiarly known in fiction and on the stage, will be impersonated at the Victoria theatre to-night by William C. Dowling.

Mr. Dowling has the support of Miss Leonora Almsworth and a company of unusual strength and ability. "Raffles" is still attracting large audiences in New York, with Kyle Belver in the title role, and the same thing is anticipated here with so undeniably a clever actor as Mr. Dowling in the character.

The play is a dramatization of E. W. Hornum's famous stories published under the same title.

"Raffles" will be performed for three nights and also on Saturday afternoon.

LEGISLATION FOR THE "YELLOW PERIL"

B. C. Poultry Association Asks Dominion Government to "Hall Mark" Eggs

The yellow peril (in eggs) came up for discussion yesterday at the meeting of the executive of the British Columbia Poultry Association, and the resolution formerly adopted in favor of having the name and the date stamped on all eggs offered for sale as fresh and wholesome was decided to be remitted to the Dominion government, with the request appended that legislation embodying the spirit of the resolution be framed.

That, however, was but one of the many important features of yesterday's meeting. Among other things the date of the provincial poultry show which is to be held in Vancouver was definitely decided upon. It will run from the 15th to the 20th of January next. A grant of $1,000 was made towards the prize list, and the entry fee in all single classes was fixed at fifty cents, the prize money being allotted as follows: First prize, $25; second, $15; third, $10; fourth, $5. There are twenty main classes, and the prizes will be $25, $15, $10, and $5. In judging the utility pen, first consideration will be given to flesh-forming qualities, and then to egg-producing qualities, condition and constitutional vigor, type and color. In the order named. All varieties of Rocks, Wyandottes, Reds and Orpingtons may compete. There will be a second utility pen for Mediterranean and Dutch classes, in which the prizes will be the same, but in which the egg-producing qualities will be considered first, and then early flesh-forming qualities, condition and constitutional vigor, type and color in the order named.

In dressed poultry there will be two classes. One will be for professional fatteners, including all breeders using fattening plants to supply dressed poultry to the market. The other class will be for non-professionals. The entry fee will be fifty cents. Roasters and broilers will be shown in pairs of four classes—Asiatic, American, English and Mediterranean. In our first pair of ducks we will be shown in pairs of all standard varieties. Turkeys will be shown singly in all varieties. Prizes of $10 and $5 will be offered for the best collection of dressed poultry by professional and non-professional fatteners.

Eggs exhibit, entry twenty-five cents; prizes, $3, $2 and $1. Pigeon and pet stock, entry fee, twenty-five cents; first prize, fifty per cent. of the entry money; second prize, thirty per cent. of the entry money. No first money will be awarded in any class unless there are at least three entries.

R. D. Steward, of Vancouver, who was appointed secretary of the show, was instructed to write to the secretaries of all the local poultry associations calling attention to the provincial show, asking their co-operation, and suggesting that each of them should supply a cup for competition, the cup to be known by the name of the association. A prize list committee was also appointed with instructions that the prize list was to be ready for distribution by the first of August. A committee including President E. B. Cole was appointed to secure a suitable hall for the event.

Elmer Dixon, of Oregon City, E. C. Trewe, of Lindsay, Ontario, and another yet to be named will act as judges at the show. Mr. LaSalle, of Vancouver, was appointed superintendent of the show.

The latest price at which our ordinary stock has changed hands is $100.00 for shares of a par value of $100.00. Those who have purchased at this price can consider themselves fortunate as the present standing of the company, together with the already assured progress for the present year, will, in my opinion, cause the stock to rise to a value of $200.00 per share before the close of the present year.

The rapid development of the business of the company makes it possible to employ profitably a much larger amount of money, and it has, therefore, been decided to place on the market the whole issue of one million dollars 7 per cent. preference stock. I intend to visit Great Britain in April for the purpose of placing a part of this issue on the other side of the Atlantic. The rate of 7 per cent. is rather against its sale in the Old Land, as the people there have a prejudice against high rates of interest. Not being familiar with conditions here they can not understand how safety of principal and high rates can go together. I had at first intended to place the ordinary capital largely in the Old Land, but on a personal visit to their chief cities found that the 12 per cent. dividends were too high; therefore, after placing some of the stock with a few friends I returned to Canada and sold the rest to leading citizens of Canada, including many bankers and others of high financial ability. In preparing the preference stock for issue I was well aware of the fact that 6 per cent. was the highest rate it should bear if it was to go on the Old Country market, but feeling that our own people in Canada should have a chance to purchase one-half of the issue, and knowing that nothing less than 7 per cent. stock would sell in Western Canada and being by law required to make the whole issue at one rate, we have made the issue as already mentioned, and if it is found to be unsatisfactory for the Old Country market we will place it all in Canada.

The one million dollars subscribed capital, ordinary stock, is called on payments which require it to be fully paid within three years. A large part is already fully paid, and as the money is used in safe and solid undertakings, and as the proceeds of the sale of preference stock are to be used for the purpose of purchasing more securities of a similar nature, the purchaser of preference stock will have abundant security.

The field for profitable investment of funds being practically unlimited in Western Canada young directors will no doubt further increase the earning power of ordinary stock by the issue of bonds or debentures at such time as may be most suitable. No definite action has yet been taken.

I am pleased to announce that our Subsidiary Company, known as the Prudential Builders, Limited, is looking for orders for new buildings. With the improvements recently added to the plant, the business established, and the staff trained to their various duties, we look for good profits for the year 1911 on the capital invested in this enterprise.

The Mahony Patented Sectional Buildings are becoming very popular and we have already had to give considerable attention to increasing the capacity of the plant in order to keep up with the increasing demand. It has been proven that these buildings can be shipped as far east as Winnipeg in connection with buildings being made in any other way. During the present year special attention will be given to c. o. b. orders.

During the year the Board of Directors was further strengthened by the addition of Mr. R. H. Duke, Second Vice-President of the Pacific Coast Life Insurance Company, Mr. William Flavelle, President of the Flavelles, Limited, and other large corporations of Ontario; Mr. George Ward, Vice-President and Managing Director of the Prudential Builders, Limited, and Director of the B. C. Permanent Loan Company, and Mr. John Firstbrook, President of Firstbrook Brothers, Limited, manufacturers, Toronto, and Director of the Metropolitan Bank and other large institutions. At this meeting I purpose recommending a further addition, viz: Mr. Richard M. Palmer, General Manager of the British Columbia Fruit Canners, Limited, and a long list of other prominent men of the Province, and more recently Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

The retiring auditors, Messrs. Buttar & Chene, C. A., Vancouver, have performed their duties in a thorough and satisfactory manner and offer themselves for re-election. All of the retiring Directors are eligible for re-election.

I beg to move the adoption of the report as read.

The Vice-President, Alderman James Ramsay, in seconding the motion, spoke as follows: "The report is a very comprehensive address of our president and general manager, Mr. Langlois, I think there is very little left for me to say. It may not, however, be amiss on my part in seconding the adoption of our annual report for 1910, to say a few words regarding our splendid showing, without going into detailed figures, as these have already been laid before you.

The remarkable increase in our subscribed capital during the year is highly satisfactory, and goes to show the confidence the public has in the Company. The ordinary stock is now all subscribed, and I think the President's suggestion to place a large proportion of the 7 per cent. preference stock on the English market is a good one, which should meet with the hearty approval of the shareholders.

A dividend of 12 per cent. per annum on the paid-up capital is certainly very gratifying, and it has only been paid after large additions have been made from profits to the reserve account. A substantial reserve creates stability, provides for emergencies, and increases the value of our shares, I trust. It will be the aim of this Company to continue the wise and sound business policy of increasing the reserve until it is at least equal to the paid-up capital of the company.

Provided we continue our system of selecting our investments with care and caution—the only policy by which we can retain the confidence of the financial world—there is no doubt that our Company has a great future before it, especially in Canada, and British Columbia, and in particular, Vancouver, continue to grow and develop as they have done. If we look at the growth of the United States in all its phases no reason appears why we should not enjoy the same success, when we have resources at least equal in value. Personally, I am satisfied that everything looks well for a continuation of our prosperity, and one of the surest indications that others are of the same opinion is the way in which the different railways, which are controlled by some of the hardest-headed business men in the country, are spending money in all directions.

We are deeply indebted to our General Manager for the able manner in which he has built up this Company to its present position, and also to the loyal employees who have assisted him in his onerous labors.

I now beg formally to second the adoption of the report and financial statement for 1910, as read.

Mr. E. W. Leeson spoke to the motion, recommending all shareholders to inspect for themselves the plant of the Prudential Builders, Limited, on Dufferin Street, Vancouver, and after Messrs. Greer, Reid, Teffer, and Robertson had also spoken, the motion to adopt the reports as read was carried unanimously.

The election of Directors resulted in the re-election of all the retiring Directors, as follows:

Thos. T. Langlois, Vancouver, B. C.; Hon. G. H. V. Buley, Edmonton, Alberta; Hon. A. E. Forget, Montreal, P. Q.; David W. Bole, Montreal, P. Q.; William Flavelle, Lindsay, Ont.; John Firstbrook, Toronto, Ont.; Lewis Hall, D. S. S. Victoria, B. C.; Alderman James Ramsay, Vancouver, B. C.; George A. McGuire, D. S. S. M. L. A. Vancouver, B. C.; George J. Teffer, Vancouver, B. C.; M. Desbriais, Vancouver, B. C.; James A. McNair, Vancouver, B. C.; E. W. Leeson, Vancouver, B. C.; R. H. Duke, Vancouver, B. C.; and George Ward, Vancouver, B. C., with the addition of Mr. R. M. Palmer, Kamloops, B. C. Messrs. Buttar & Chene, C. A. (Edin.) were re-elected as auditors of the company.

At a subsequent meeting of the newly-elected Board of Directors, Thomas T. Langlois was elected President and Managing Director, James Ramsay, Vice-President, W. Rae, Secretary, and W. Percival Reid, Treasurer. Messrs. Bower, Reid & Wallbridge were re-appointed Solicitors to the Company.

Proceedings of the Fourth Annual General Meeting of The Prudential Investment Co. Limited

The fourth annual general meeting of the Prudential Investment Company, Limited, was held in the board room of the Company, 230 Pender Street West, Vancouver, B. C., on Thursday, February 23, 1911, at 4 p.m. The shareholders present representing a large proportion of the capital of the Company.

The President of the Company, Mr. T. T. Langlois, occupied the chair, while Mr. Rae acted as Secretary of the meeting.

The financial reports were presented by the Treasurer, Mr. W. P. Reid, and in moving their adoption the President said:

The financial reports presented by our Treasurer are worthy of some comment on my part. In the first place it should be noted that the Company has reached its optimistic aim of having the one million dollars of ordinary capital fully subscribed by the end of the year 1910, and that whereas it was expected that the paid-up capital would reach one half million dollars it has actually passed the $500,000 mark.

Some two years ago I felt satisfied that the reserve could be built up to $50,000.00 by the end of the year 1910. It is, therefore, with an exceptional degree of satisfaction that I now call your attention to a reserve of a quarter of a million dollars, and in addition thereto, after having made provision for dividends to December 31, 1910, we carry forward in surplus accounts, such as contingent and balance at credit of profit and loss, the sum of $58,954.85.

This is no doubt the first time in the history of British Columbia in which any financial institution has succeeded in securing within three years and four months from date of incorporation a subscribed capital of one million dollars, paid up capital of $600,000.00, and reserve and surplus funds of over $500,000, and this in addition to having paid its shareholders dividends at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum for three years at this time. If all of the assets of the Company were taken at present market value a further sum of at least $200,000.00 would be added to reserve, but it was deemed wise to carry at cost all real estate held for improvement or speculative purposes. Most of this real estate is located in the cities of Vancouver and Winnipeg and is to be sold only after being improved by our building scheme, whereby suitable dwelling houses are erected and sold to prospective buyers. In our first tract of 104 lots in Vancouver we have already made great improvements and have sold ten lots at a profit of $14,000. In addition we have erected or are erecting on the lots which have been sold eight houses, ranging in value from $2500.00 to $5000.00 each, on which we make more than the usual builders' profits, because of having our own timber limits, mills, warehouse and other advantages whereby building operations are carried on at the lowest possible cost. This tract is called "Taiton Place," and will when completed be one of the most desirable and attractive dwelling districts in the whole Dominion of Canada.

The latest price at which our ordinary stock has changed hands is $100.00 for shares of a par value of $100.00. Those who have purchased at this price can consider themselves fortunate as the present standing of the company, together with the already assured progress for the present year, will, in my opinion, cause the stock to rise to a value of $200.00 per share before the close of the present year.

The rapid development of the business of the company makes it possible to employ profitably a much larger amount of money, and it has, therefore, been decided to place on the market the whole issue of one million dollars 7 per cent. preference stock. I intend to visit Great Britain in April for the purpose of placing a part of this issue on the other side of the Atlantic. The rate of 7 per cent. is rather against its sale in the Old Land, as the people there have a prejudice against high rates of interest. Not being familiar with conditions here they can not understand how safety of principal and high rates can go together. I had at first intended to place the ordinary capital largely in the Old Land, but on a personal visit to their chief cities found that the 12 per cent. dividends were too high; therefore, after placing some of the stock with a few friends I returned to Canada and sold the rest to leading citizens of Canada, including many bankers and others of high financial ability. MEXICAN REBELS

AGAIN ACTIVE

MADERO ORDERS

ATTACK ON CHIHUAHUA

It is Believed Leader Intends
Take the Town Before
States Can Intervene

El Paso, Texas, March 9.—Probability of American intervention in Mexico is seen here in the report that Provisional President Francisco Madero has ordered a force of 3,000 revolutionists to attack Chihuahua, and it is believed that he intends to be in possession of Chihuahua before American troops can possibly cross the border.

Preparations at Fort Bliss for quartering two regiments are being rushed. It is generally believed in Juarez that behind the hasty mobilization of American troops is a plan to permit President Diaz to retire with some little show of grace.

Local representatives of the Mexican Northwestern railroad and the Pearson lumber interests, both British concerns, acknowledged yesterday that stockholders had complained that Mexico was not protecting foreign interests.

Protests From Abroad.
Washington, D. C., March 9.—Combined protest by Wall street, Great Britain and Germany over the destruction of railroads and the stoppage of mining and other developments taken in connection with the illness of President Diaz, is given here by correspondents of the Mexican revolutionists as the cause for the mobilization of American troops on the Mexican frontier.

The revolutionists declare that Diaz professed satisfaction over the practical intervention by the United States is merely feigned. They declare the insurgents promised the financial interests that they would tear up no tracks, if the railroads carried no federal troops. They declare that Diaz violated this agreement and the railroads must take the consequences.

Regret that the mobilization of troops on the Mexican frontier, if it proves to be only a mobilization, was not made on the Pacific coast, was expressed here by Former Representative James McLachlan of California.

"While I regret that the manoeuvres are not to be held on the Pacific coast, wherein difficulty of transporting men, equipment and supplies would have been a more severe test of the organization of our military forces and one more likely to actually occur," said McLachlan, "yet the mobilization of practically our entire mobile force on the Mexican border is a fair test of the department's efficiency."

"I have frequently pointed out that the desert intervening between the Rockies and the Pacific coast constitutes a national menace in case of an attempted invasion on the Pacific, preventing as it would the speedy mobilization of troops and supplies. In a mobilization on the Mexican frontier such difficulties would be met with mobilization on the Pacific coast will not be encountered."

"However, I cannot find words to express my gratification that the military authorities have decided to put the present machinery of the war establishment to a real test."

"If this is an answer to my criticism of the organization of the army I will accept the result without prejudice. My heart is with the army. This is the very training I have always advocated. We have stripped the entire nation of our mobile force to place a single division on the Mexican frontier. Our military establishment is strained to carry this feat through. This in itself carries a lesson."

"It is my sincere hope, at the conclusion of this manoeuvre, that the military authorities will frankly make public any and all weaknesses developed. Congress can then intelligently take up the matter of army reorganization. I await the result with intense interest. Let the truth be known."

Mexican Minister's Statement.
New York, March 9.—An extended secret conference was held here this afternoon between Mexican Finance Minister Limantour and Ambassador De La Barra. At its close Limantour said:

"The military activity of the United States is a matter I cannot discuss now. I can say, however, that Mexico does not object to any mobilization so long as it is confined to this country."

"Except for a few bands of insurgents in Chihuahua the revolution is ended. It would have been crushed long ago but for arms and men sent from this country."

"I understand 100 anarchists left Los Angeles for Mexico this week."

Preparing For Troops.
Galveston, Texas, March 9.—Working under rush orders, laborers are preparing the barracks at Fort Crockett, San Jacinto and Travis, Texas, for over 500 troops. The Southern Pacific railroad is laying tracks from Galveston to the government reservation. It was also learned that the local coast artillery is overhauling guns and clearing the forts for action.

The collector of the port of Galveston was ordered yesterday afternoon to prepare for the coming of the warships and all shore leaves have been cancelled.

Reports Heavy Casualties.

Portland, Ore., March 9.—That there is greater military activity and casualties in the Mexican revolution than press dispatches would indicate, is shown in a letter received here from Lew W. Van Horne, nephew of Sir Wm. Van Horne. According to the missive young Van Horne is now an officer in the revolutionary army stationed near Tress Castles in Chihuahua. Under the date of February 20, he tells of an engagement near Tress Castles, in which he says ninety-six federalists were killed and 13 horses and 104 guns were captured by rebels. The engagement was never reported in the press dispatches. He speaks of other engagements in which the numbers killed were numerous but were not made public in the United States.

INDIGESTION GOES IN FIVE MINUTES

Heartburn, Gas, Dyspepsia and Other Stomach Misery Vanishes Before You Realize It.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of Dizziness, Heartburn, Fullness, Nausea, Bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. Diapiesin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each case contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Bilelessness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapiesin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for Indigestion or Gastritis or any other Stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of Stomach Trouble and Indigestion.

RE COST OF TUNNELS.

To the Editor:—The general impression around town seems to be that the cost of the five-mile Los Angeles tunnel averaged $30 per foot. As a matter of fact the total cost of this tunnel completed was something like $1,611,000, which works out at a little over $32 per foot. The error in assuming $30 per foot to have been the cost of this tunnel is probably due to an article appearing in your paper a few days ago, in which the average cost per foot of the long tunnel was reduced by computing its cost together with the cost of the numerous short tunnels on the same line, some of which cost not more than $12 per foot.

Victoria, March 8, 1911.

SELLING CITY SECURITIES.

To the Editor:—Would it not be a sensible plan to patronize home industry?—Well, to begin with, we will say the city of Victoria has voted bonds to the amount of $100,000 for waterworks. Instead of taking those bonds to London, New York or Berlin, why not take the bonds to the provincial treasurer's office, he to issue House paper money to the city of Victoria? The city of Victoria pays 3 per cent. per annum for 20 years, and when the 20 years are up all claims against the city are squared up. The province is $12,500 better off and the city got the use of $100,000 for an outlay of $12,500.

Well, there is no law to that effect, some will say. Send men to Victoria who will make laws to that effect, others will say. Every foot of real estate in the city of Victoria is back of that money.

Some say it will be no good. Is not the city of Victoria more able to pay $12,500 than to pay 4 per cent. for 20 years, which would amount to $200,000 without the compound interest? But you scare away foreign capital. Better off Victoria and the whole of Canada will be. Victoria furnishes the real capital in the line of bonds. The money shark simply changes a $100,000 bill for the city of Victoria and charges the city 4 per cent. per annum on every dollar. Send M. P.'s to make laws for the people in place of always passing laws that rob the people who are living and millions yet unborn. And the same individuals are the servants of the people. Queer—Are grafters, money sharks and land sharks the people? If so, since when?

MEN AND WOMEN.

To the Editor:—There is an account in the Colonist of a recent date of a "young woman of refined nature" who left her native city, Victoria, to finish her education in New York. She made her debut there before the early dawn of a very morning for several months during last winter by appearing in "mannish costume" and briskly walking up and down the walks. She thus succeeded in attracting the attention of the necessarily most ubiquitous and inquisitive of men, the interviewer and the policeman. The wary pressman ran her to earth without a "faux," and, Yankee like, demanded her impressions of the American women. New York by preference, as, in his opinion of course, persons of such notoriety as the lady of the dawn and all millionaires are fully competent to give an opinion upon the most abstruse subjects. She considers the American woman whimsical in dress and genius for repartee. The latter she proved in this way: She mentions a certain society lady who, speaking to a friend of an Englishman present at an evening affair, said she "had seen Americans she liked less." I have given it up, as I cannot find genius in this repartee. She (the society lady) listens to the most fulsome flattery from a casual acquaintance of five minutes, and when she wishes she will "break up a whole roomful of conversation in a few minutes with her biting remarks." This is told by her only as further proof "of that genius for repartee" for which the American women are so distinguished, and who the lady of the dawn describes as the leaders of fashion, etc. The French, she admits, are a tolerably good second. But English women—well, she has seen an English woman start out to make a social call in costly costume, white split gloves, with soiled backs and fingers, and shoes also remarkably defective. Is this an accurate description of the fashionable woman in the west end of London? Well, I am very sure it is not. Persons such as described in this interview may possibly be found in houses of the English gentry, but certainly not in the drawing room. She has little or no use for that deteriorated species of the genus man, the New York husband, who is represented as a combination of lap-dog and social fool, who "never said a word."

Excuse the irrelevance, when I say there is not another man in Victoria to-day to whom the historic expression "and I never said a word" will appeal to so forcibly as to Edward Terry. They are words of our mutual friend, and his (Ed. T.) distinguished rival, who so completely satisfied Charles Dickens by his like-like and humorous delineation of the "ARTFUL DOGGER."

BOY COMMITS SUICIDE.

Tacoma, Wash., March 8.—Fearing severe parental punishment because he had broken into his mother's trunk and taken some articles of small value, Oscar A. Edfast, a 15-year-old school boy, is dead, a suicide, today. The boy's brother told the police of the affair this morning. Last night the youth went into a hotel and drained a bottle of carbolic acid. In dramatic fashion he dashed into the hotel office, foaming at the mouth and shrieking with agony. He collapsed and died before a doctor could reach him. Women guests in the place were panic stricken.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED.

Detroit, Mich., March 8.—Victor M. Clore and Bryan O'Hara, both of Palms, Michigan, were arrested to-day charged with having held up a Southern Pacific train near Ogden, Utah, last January. In the hold-up one man, a porter, was killed. The robbers were $2,500 in money and jewels from the Pullman passengers.

CHAPPED HANDS & COLD SORES

One thorough application of Zam-Buk at night will bring ease by morning. Zam-Buk stops the smarting, heals the cracks, and makes the hands smooth.

PROOF—Miss Rattie Portland, Calaburg, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with chapped hands and arms and nothing ever seemed to heal them thoroughly until we found Zam-Buk. It has cured them. My father has also used it for several skin troubles and injuries, and thinks there is nothing like Zam-Buk."

Mothers should see that their children use Zam-Buk daily, as there is nothing like prevention. A little Zam-Buk lightly smeared over the hands and wrists, after washing, will prevent chaps and cold sores.

Zam-Buk is also a cure for skin diseases, eczema, itch, ringworm, blood-poisoning, piles, and for cuts, burns and bruises. Get it at all stores and druggists, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful substitutes and imitations.

SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE TURNED AWAY

Inadequacy of Educational Facilities Brought Before Notice of Trustees

A rather startling state of affairs in the educational facilities of Victoria was brought to light at the monthly meeting of the board of school trustees last night.

A deputation from the northern portion of the city waited upon the board and called attention to the fact that two hundred and fifty of the children of that rapidly developing portion of the community were without educational accommodation through the present inadequate facilities. After demonstrating the extent of the grievance the deputation suggested that the only course calculated to cope with the situation was the erection of a new school in the vicinity of Burnside road or Oaklands. The members of the deputation were Messrs. E. Henderson, W. Yule, W. Bligham, and J. Bernhart. After hearing the views of the various members of the deputation George Jay, chairman of the board, explained that the information they had received had already been under consideration. The board was alive to the precariousness of the situation. They had already asked the city to submit a by-law authorizing the expenditure of a large sum of money upon two schools, one of which it had been proposed to locate near Oaklands, while the other would relieve the school congestion at Burnside. Their efforts at a solution of the problem had been temporarily nullified through the uncertainty of the situation at the city hall. He promised, however, that the board would exercise its every power to have the matter attended to with all possible expedition.

Superintendent Paul emphasized the fact that the inadequacy was general throughout the city. He referred to North Ward school where, he said, pupils were being turned away almost daily. As a result of the congestion it had been decided to segregate some twenty Chinese scholars and thus make room for some of the British applicants.

Six new teachers are being applied for as a result of changes and resignations.

H. F. Pullen, of the Oak Bay school board, made an application to permit outside teachers having the use of the city manual training facilities. The application will be considered.

Capt. Bennett's report of the recent inspection of the Victoria College cadets was read by Principal S. J. Willis. The report eulogized the work of the cadets and called attention to the need of sufficient storage for arms. This year's estimates will provide for the increased accommodation.

Mr. Woolridge was appointed manual training teacher at a salary of $75 per month. The resignations of J. A. Redmond and Miss Coates were accepted.

INDICTMENTS AGAINST RUEF

San Francisco, Cal., March 8.—Not until Abe Ruef has played his last card in his fight to evade his 14-year sentence in San Quentin will District Attorney Pickert consent to the dismissal of the 118 indictments still hanging over the head of the former San Francisco boss.

WHAT I WENT THROUGH

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it had worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—Mrs. NATHAN E. GAZARON, 61 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

RUMOR OF DEATH

OF DIAZ DENIED

will be able to take care of herself. There is no reason for the United States to interfere and such statements circulated injure business. The revolution has not assumed serious proportions."

Reported in Critical Condition.
Galveston, Texas, March 8.—Private authentic advices received here to-day state President Diaz of Mexico is still alive, but that his condition is critical. His heart is very weak, it is asserted, and he is being kept alive hourly by the use of stimulants. His death is expected at any time.

Germany's Attitude.
Berlin, March 8.—That Germany will not rely upon the United States to protect her interests in Mexico was officially announced this afternoon by the Imperial foreign office. A statement issued declared that if the situation developed so as to endanger Germany's interests, Germany will herself take protective measures.

London Views.
London, March 8.—Commenting on the situation on the Mexican-American frontier, the Standard says to-day: "Diaz is Mexico's saviour, but the lawless element does not want salvation. The object of the United States is to prevent a recrudescence of the old spirit, an ebullition of violence and a baneful reaction when the reins drop from the dictator's hands."

The News says: "No nation may march an army across a frontier simply because a civil war may endanger its subjects. Its duty is to withdraw its subjects or warn them that they remain at their own risk."

Navy Reserve in Readiness.
San Francisco, Cal., March 8.—The San Francisco division of the California navy reserve is in readiness for auxiliary duty with the Pacific fleet in Mexican waters, according to Captain A. B. Adams of the fifth division. The local division numbers 250 officers and men. Similar conditions prevail at San Diego and Los Angeles, where the first and second divisions are on practically a war footing.

Sail for San Diego.
Los Angeles, Cal., March 8.—Under orders to proceed to San Diego and await specific instructions, the cruisers California, Pennsylvania and South Dakota sailed out of San Pedro harbor at daylight to-day.

Recruiting for Guards.
Denver, Colo., March 8.—Acting under rush orders from Washington, officers of the Colorado National Guard were busy to-day recruiting their regiments to a war footing.

Ready to Sail.
New York, March 8.—The cruisers Tennessee, North Carolina and Montana are expected to sail at daybreak to-morrow for Guantanamo. Five thousand new type Springfield rifles were placed aboard and the same number of new navy revolvers. Forty thousand rounds of ammunition were part of the consignment.

Equipment for Soldiers.
Sacramento, Cal., March 8.—Equipment for 5,000 men, company by company, has been made ready at the United States arsenal at Benicia, according to Adjutant-General Forbes. The equipment is in individual outfits and is intended solely for new troops. Each outfit comprises uniform, blanket, cartridge belt, gun and ammunition.

The National Guard already is on a war footing with the exception of a few companies that have not khaki uniforms as yet. The arsenal will supply this deficiency within a few days.

BUCKET DREDGE HERE FOR DUTY

ARRIVES AT ESQUIMALT
AFTER UNEVENTFUL TRIP

Following Overhauling Will Proceed to Vancouver to Commence Dredging

Quaint, unique and a somewhat cumbersome looking craft, the new bucket dredge, built in Glasgow for use in the Narrows at Vancouver, whose only name is a numeral, No. 508, arrived at Esquimalt late last night, completing her 15,000 mile voyage from the Clyde in 112 days. As the vessel stopped at San Francisco she did not have to call at the William Head quarantine station and proceeded to the naval harbor, where she dropped anchor. Within a few days she will be hauled out to have some repairs and alterations made, before leaving to commence work in dredging away the sand banks in the Terminal City harbor.

Yesterday afternoon the dredge passed in at Tatooch after a five-day run from San Francisco, where the vessel arrived on Friday last to replenish her bunkers. Captain Rodick states that although the craft has traversed a large stretch of water that very little rough weather was encountered. From the Clyde to the Straits of Magellan, while heavy seas and gales were experienced part of the time, still the weather on the whole was very fine. As the vessel was making her way into the Straits she, however, ran into a stiff gale blowing from the west at a terrific pace. The dredge was battered about fiercely in the storm but gradually forced her way through it.

When rounding Cape Pillar into the Pacific after weathering the tremendous blow in the Straits the craft was again assailed by heavy winds and seas and although proceeding at full speed her headway was slow. She however rode out the gale without any damage being done to her many fittings on deck. Up to San Francisco the weather was favorable, but after leaving the Golden Gate on the last stretch of the journey she received a good buffeting. In the head northerly winds, which stirred up nasty seas, was tossed about badly. Through-out the long voyage, where weather was taken as it came, the sea-going dredger has come through without any damage at all.

mand of the vessel, with his crew of twenty-two men, make a specialty of delivering these vessels, which are built by William Simmonds & Co., Glasgow, to various parts of the world, and they will soon return to the Old Country. He has piloted crafts of this type to South Africa, China and India but the trip just completed is the longest of the kind that he has ever undertaken.

When in operation, the dredger's hull, a full description of which was given in yesterday afternoon's issue, resembles two prongs of a fork, being two compartments from the engine room aft to the bow. The great crane with its buckets drops down through the opening like a centrepiece in a Whitehall boat. The dredger has a capacity of lifting 1,200 tons of mud an hour. During the trip from the Old Land she has averaged about six and a half knots an hour.

As soon as the dredge is overhauled she will be sent to Vancouver to commence her duties. A number of Hopper barges are being built to convey the mud hauled up from the bottom, and into deep water and dump it. It is expected that she will be ready within a few weeks, and will immediately be commissioned by the department of dredging of the Dominion government.

PASSENGER AGENT RESIGNS.
Geo. W. Vaux Leaves G. T. Railway System and is Succeeded by Harry G. Elliott.

Through the resignation of George W. Vaux, as general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk Railway system at Montreal, Harry G. Elliott has been appointed to that position and is succeeded by J. D. McDonald. Mr. McDonald has a wide acquaintance with the railway and newspaper fraternity, having for many years represented his company at Buffalo as agent in charge of the Niagara frontier, and for some time as district passenger agent at Toronto.

He was secretary of the entertainment committee at Buffalo when the American Association of general passenger agents met there prior to the opening of the Pan-American exposition. He has assisted in many large undertakings carried out by the company, especially when special excursions have been run. His territory now embraces what is known as the western division, lying west of Detroit and Port Huron and all that west of Chicago to the Pacific coast and southward to the Gulf of Mexico.

Mr. Vaux has been appointed to the capacity of general passenger agent of the Canadian Northern Railway Company.

The members of Court Maple Leaf A. O. F., will hold a social dance at the conclusion of their meeting on Friday evening. All are cordially invited to attend.

Machinery on Way From England

According to the latest reports which have been received in this city of the new steamer British Empire, which is now laid up at St. Vincent, with her machinery disabled, it is stated that the damage cannot be repaired there and that the vessel will have to remain there until new parts, with which to replace the defective mechanism, arrive from England. Nothing definite concerning the nature of the injuries the steamer has suffered can be obtained at present but it is expected that within a few days news will be received here.

The British Empire is en route from the Old Country to join the fleet of the Northern Steamship Company, of Vancouver. She left England on January 21, but while on the way to St. Vincent her machinery gave trouble and it was with great difficulty that she made port. It is not known just how long the vessel will have to remain there but she will be delayed some time in arriving here.

It was expected by officials of the company that the British Empire would arrive at Vancouver in time for the beginning of the spring rush to the north and the delay at St. Vincent will undoubtedly prove of great inconvenience to them. The Northern Steamship Company has purchased two new steamers for their trade to the north, one of 1,200 tons and the other of 800 tons carrying capacity. The British Empire, which is the smaller of the two, left Liverpool first but the other vessel may reach this port ahead of her.

She is to be operated by the company in conjunction with the Cetra, now on the Prince Rupert and Vancouver run, giving a weekly sailing. The big steamer is to be used on the Vancouver, Queen Charlotte, Portland Canal, Ketchikan and Skagway service. She is specially constructed for carrying ore and will undoubtedly come in for a large share of the northern business. Passenger accommodation has been provided on the steamer of the finest and most modern type.

READY TO RECONSIDER.

Melbourne, March 8.—The pressure that has been brought to bear on the federal authorities with a view of securing a re-consideration of the question of a subsidy for the steamship line to Canada has had the effect intended. In response to a request from a deputation of Brisbane merchants, the prime minister announces that the government is prepared to open the matter again. According to the postmaster general, the cabinet is now awaiting the action of the steamship companies who may wish to make overtures for the establishment of such a service as that contemplated.

VADSO LEAVING.

After missing a trip to northern British Columbia ports, the Boscowitz steamer Vadso will leave here to-night, carrying a large number of passengers and some freight. The Venture sailing from Vancouver took the Vadso's last trip to the north the latter taking the local passengers and freight across to the Terminal City. She is making flying trips, and in order to connect with the schedule is being forced to the limit. Capt. Morehouse, of the Vadso, has been given command of the Venture, formerly identified with the St. Demis, which she was operated by this company, has been placed in charge of the Vadso.

WEST COAST SUMMER SCHEDULE STARTED

Tees Making Two Trips Every Month to Clayoquot and
Two to Holberg

Commencing at the beginning of the present month the C. P. R. steamer Tees, Capt. Gilliam, entered on her summer schedule. Under the new sailing outlined by officials of the B. C. Coast Service, the west coast steamer will leave port twice a month for Clayoquot and twice a month for Holberg. For the first named town the Tees departs from Victoria on the first and fifteenth of each month, and for the most northerly town on the seventh and twentieth of every month.

During the winter months the Tees has been making three trips to Clayoquot every month and one passage to Holberg. Owing to the very heavy weather off the coast she is not able to make two of the long trips, to Holberg. Now that the Pacific has quieted down and assumed its normal condition the Tees is enabled to make much faster time and therefore can fulfill a bigger schedule.

Many settlers will be flocking to west coast points, especially to the San Josef valley, very shortly, and the Tees will undoubtedly have a busy season. The possibilities of the west coast for agricultural and farming purposes have been well advertised and persons from Old Land as well as in other parts of Canada have been attracted by the glowing reports sent out.

MARINE NOTES

With a large number of passengers and considerable freight, the C. P. R. steamer Amur, Capt. Locke, will leave tonight for northern British Columbia ports and Queen Charlotte islands.

Bringing 194 tons of general freight for this port, the Pacific Coast steamer Umattah will arrive in port late tonight. She is also bringing from the south a number of passengers who have been spending the winter in southern California.

Making an unusually smart passage up the coast from San Francisco, the schooner C. S. Holmes arrived at Tacoma yesterday. The Holmes will load at the Tacoma Mill company's mill for California. According to the date given for her departure from San Francisco, she has been less than five days sailing. She is also bringing from the coast, which is the smartest passage of the winter for the fleet of five sailing vessels now under charter to load at the Tacoma mill.

The loss of the four-masted schooner J. C. Strawbridge, 280 miles off Bermuda, on February 22, and the rescue of the crew by the Russian ship Endymion, was announced in dispatches yesterday morning. The Strawbridge was bound from Rockport for Nassau with a cargo of ice. The J. C. Strawbridge was built at Camden, Me., in 1901. The vessel was of 753 tons, 183 feet long, 27 feet beam and 17 feet draft. She was valued at $30,000, and was insured. The Endymion left Gulfport, Miss., February 2, for Rio Janeiro. She was formerly the British ship Fira Lancashire, of Sunderland, but is now owned in Marmelham, Russia.

With a cargo of 5,000 tons of benzene under their feet and lightning playing about her decks, the crew of the British steamship Azov, Capt. Peterson, which has arrived at San Francisco from Talara Bay, were badly scared for several hours during an electrical storm off the lower coast. The Azov, a fine carrier, was of 753 tons, 183 feet long, 27 feet beam and 17 feet draft. She was valued at $30,000, and was insured. The Endymion left Gulfport, Miss., February 2, for Rio Janeiro. She was formerly the British ship Fira Lancashire, of Sunderland, but is now owned in Marmelham, Russia.

As soon as the British freighter Queen Alexandra discharges sufficient of her deckload of lumber and other cargo at San Francisco she will be placed on Hunter's point dry dock for a survey to determine the extent of the damage she sustained in bumping the Columbia river bar a week ago. The Queen Alexandra arrived at Golden Gate last Thursday night, after her experience in the north. She was bound from Portland for China, and the delay will entail a considerable loss. The big carrier struck the bar a number of times in passing out, and it is believed that an inspection of her hull will reveal that she was badly damaged.

A series of minor accidents was the extent of the damage wrought along the Seattle waterfront by the squall which sprang up at 6 o'clock yesterday morning and abated half an hour later. The big bus Funnell half an hour later arrived before daylight, was moored in the upper slip of Pier 8 when the heavy wind arose. The wind drove her away from the dock and as her hawsers held she tore away the cleats, swung around and crashed into the San Juan Fish Company's dock, badly damaging it. A small launch, anchored at the Pioneer Boat Company's float, was crushed and sunk. Lines were soon fastened to other cleats and the vessel was brought around to the opposite side of the slip after the wind died down.

There was a day when ocean liners outlasted a generation. The life of the great ocean steamships, however, is growing steadily shorter. It is not because they are less permanent or seaworthy—quite the reverse—but the advance in shipbuilding and the amazing demand for new luxuries on the high seas soon relegate a palatial modern liner to the scrap heap. For a few years a boat is perhaps queen of the seas till eclipsed by still larger and more luxurious ships, when she is relegated to the "one class" rating, and in turn disappears and becomes only a memory. Ten years ago it was thought that ocean liners had reached the maximum comfort, but the appearance of palm gardens, veranda swimming pools and the like created a new fleet of trans-Atlantic liners which are the marvel of the world. For scarcely a decade they enjoy this pre-eminence, but their position is already threatened by another type of liner now building—the Europa—which dwarfs their bulk and introduces new and unheard of luxuries.

SOUND DEATH KNEEL FOR MANY MAMMALS

Whalers William Grant and Green at Sechart Ready for Work Off West Coast

Second of the whaling steamers of the Rainbow fleet, operated by the Canadian Northern Pacific Fisheries Company, to sail for the hunting grounds off the west coast of this island, was the William Grant, which left port to-day for Sechart. The Green, one of the new vessels, which recently arrived from Norway, left the upper harbor several days ago and is now at the West Coast station awaiting to commence operations in slaying the mammals, which are at present reported to be swimming in large numbers.

The station at Sechart, the first to be opened up, is now ready to receive the whales and prepare them for shipment. The William Grant and Green will be the only ones engaged on the west coast at present but when the season is further advanced several of the others will be dispatched there to assist in the work. The stations at Kyquoot and Rose Harbor will very shortly be opened but the new one in course of construction at Naden Harbor will not be completed for some time yet.

The word has yet been received at the local offices of the company announcing the arrival at San Diego of the two new whalers the Yellow and Red, which left Christiania nearly a month later than the Green, Black and White. As soon as they arrive they will be overhauled immediately and have the big winches installed.

MAKES CRAFT SPEEDY.
Corrugated Sides Also Gives Vessels Unusually Heavy and Greater Cargo Carrying Capacity.

The steamship Monitoria, built by Osbourne, Graham & Co., at Sunderland, England, and the Ericsson Shipbuilding company, has demonstrated that the corrugated-sided vessel has not only better average speed but has unusual strength and greater cargo-carrying capacity than the ordinary built tramp. This vessel is built on what is known as the Monitor system, in which the corrugations in her sides extend from the turn of the bows to the turn of the quarters, which innovation, it is said, decreases speed on less coal consumption than common to vessels with smooth sides. These corrugations are placed below the load water-line and above the bilge.

The contour is a wave-like section, which forms rather flat arcs gently curved into the flat wall-sided ship at the edges of the arcs. They so affect the stream and wave action around and under the vessel that a source of wasted energy is prevented and more power therefore becomes available for propulsion. As the corrugations restrict the wave amplitude, the speed of the wave passing round the ship is increased. This increase of speed water is equivalent to a reduction of resistance, inasmuch as it minimizes the accumulation of water piled at the ends. In the Monitoria the propeller is seen clearly revolving in unbroken water, horizontal, and the propeller slip is down to between 3 per cent. and 5 per cent. Instead of 10 per cent. to 15 per cent. From the trial trips to the present time in all respects the application of these corrugations to the sides have more than proved all that was expected of them, and has disclosed a law of ship's resistance, which has hitherto been totally neglected.

CAPT. BROWN GIVEN COMMAND OF MARY

Skipper of City of Nanaimo Receives Well Deserved Promotion

When the new steamer Princess Mary leaves the inner harbor next Tuesday morning on her initial trip on the Victoria-Nanaimo-Comox run, there will be on her bridge Capt. Brown, who has received a well-earned promotion from master of the City of Nanaimo, which vessel the Mary is relieving. For several years he has been employed by the B. C. Coast Service and for some time past skipper of the east coast steamer. Capt. Brown now commands one of the finest little vessels owned by the C. P. R., which is his reward for faithful service. He is regarded as a skilled navigator and shipping men are glad to hear of his appointment.

The Princess Mary, which was built at the yards of Bow, McLachlan & Co., is now lying at the Robert Ward dock being overhauled in preparation for entering on the run. Several days ago she was hauled out on the B. C. Marine ways and had her hull scraped and painted after the long voyage from the Old Land. Her decks have been recalled and pitched, while the interior has been renovated.

With the removal of the City of Nanaimo from the run, and the placing of the Princess Mary on the route marks the faith which the C. P. R. has in the possibilities of the east coast trade.

THE NORTH BAY TROPHY

AND What Happened When the Ice Boat Hustler Was Converted Into a "Wind-Scooter"

BY ARTHUR MORGAN LANGWORTHY

A frame on four wheels with a gasoline motor in the back. This engine drives a big fan propeller set up and projecting over the back of the wagon. It's a sort of land-aeroplane, as the fan revolves so fast against the air it pushes the wagon right along without any other power. One of 'em went by our house last summer."

"That's it exactly," rejoined Mr. Rogers approvingly, after which he pointed to the wrecked aeroplane. "And now why can't we make a wind-ice wagon? The engine's all right and we can repair the propeller where it's splintered. The engine is light enough to be shifted on the stern of the Hustler and jacked up to let the propeller revolve free of the ice—and the Hustler will be the fastest thing on North Bay!"

The ten days before the race were busily spent in altering the Hustler and in secret trial trips; though the work was done under cover in the barn, the news leaked out that the Quick Quartet weren't "run off their runners" yet in spite of the Hustler's previous bad work.

The day of the great race arrived at last. The starting point was an imaginary line, extending from Old Wharf, across Frog's Neck to the light house on the other shore. Frog's Neck was where the bay narrowed down to one end and was only about an eighth of a mile across. The course was straightaway on ice or water.

"Look!" suddenly cried Austen, pointing to the sky ahead of them.

"An aeroplane! And something's wrong, too—she's coming down!" he exclaimed, watching the machine as it circled unevenly over the bay. The circles decreased in size as the monoplane descended until it was about fifty feet above the ice, when the big canvas fabric collapsed. It dropped like so much lead upon a foe about a quarter of a mile off.

The boys, wild with excitement, headed for the spot and were able to sail right up to the wrecked airship. Part of the aviator's body was visible and he lay very still. After considerable effort they managed to drag the man out from under the twisted mass and lift him into the Hustler's tiny cockpit, where they found he was alive, but they couldn't revive him.

Yet he must have help at once. So Austen ordered Pliny to take him back to Oakdale, at the end of the bay. The ice was in no danger of breaking up and Austen was a big, husky boy, warmly dressed. He would stay with the wreck until Pliny returned, as the Hustler was too small for three.

This plan was carried out successfully. Pliny had taken the injured man home, where he regained consciousness, to find he had a broken leg and was the hero of all juvenile Oakdale. For everybody knew of George Rogers, the great aviator. He'd been up testing a newly built machine. A gale blew him miles out of his course and the untimely machine, weakened by the fierce struggle with the gale, had "buckled" over the bay.

The Quick family soon helped Mr. Rogers to convalescence; they wouldn't hear of his going to a hotel, and gave the grateful young man the best of care. Meanwhile the wrecked monoplane had been recovered and stored in the Quick's barn. The engine was little damaged, but the rest of the flier was ruined beyond repair.

Several more ice races had been run, but the owners of the Hustler did not compete. What show would it have with such boats as the Snow Flake, the Ice Queen or the Crystal? These scooters were needle prowed, graceful shaples, compared to which the square, shovel nosed Hustler looked like a mud scow.

All the races which had been run were merely preparatory to the great annual contest for the North Bay championship. The North Bay trophy went with it—a beautiful silver model of an ice yacht. The winner was entitled to hold the trophy for one year, his name being inscribed on it under those of the previous winners. This trophy had been striven for ever since 1879. It was no small honor to win it, as Pliny Quick sadly explained to Mr. Rogers, particularly as Pliny's father's name was on the list. Mr. Quick having won it when a young man back in '87.

"And what are the conditions?" asked Mr. Rogers.

"There are none except in relation to handicaps," answered Pliny.

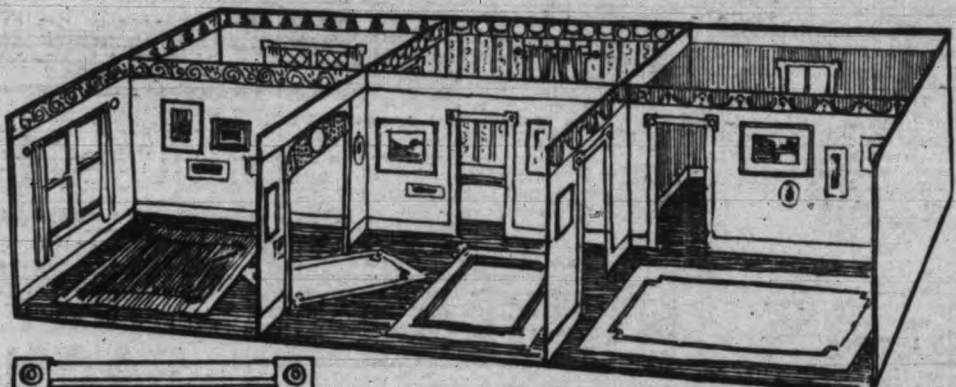

"Can any kind of a craft enter so long as it has runners?"

Pliny nodded affirmatively, and then Mr. Rogers lumped into the barn, followed by the Quick Quartet, whom he'd asked to come along. He examined the stock of tools in the workshop at one end, after which he addressed the quartet: "Did any of you chaps ever hear of a wind wagon?"

"I've seen one," answered Pliny. "It's

HOW TO MAKE A BOX APARTMENT FOR MISS PAPER DOLL

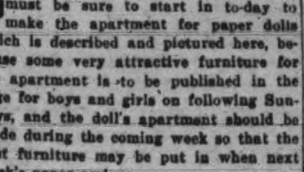

THIS DOOR FRAME TO BE CUT OUT AND SEVEN OTHERS LIKE IT MADE.

METHOD OF PUTTING WALLS TOGETHER.

KITCHEN WINDOW

BED ROOM WINDOW

GIRLS who are fond of paper dolls must be sure to start in to-day to make the apartment for paper dolls which is described and pictured here, because some very attractive furniture for the apartment is to be published in the page for boys and girls on following Sunday, and the doll's apartment should be made during the coming week so that the first furniture may be put in when next week's paper arrives.

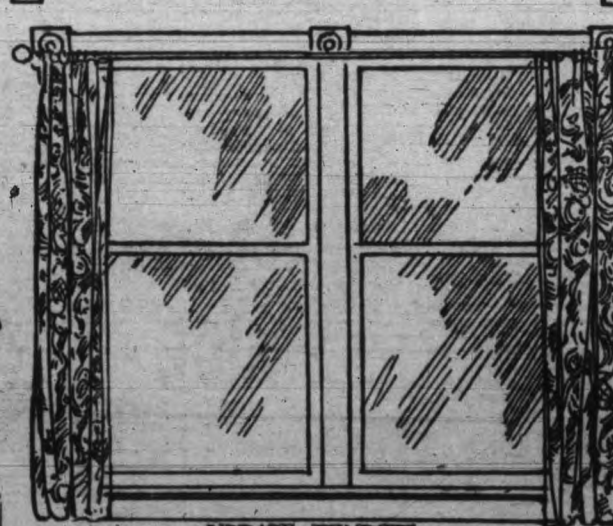

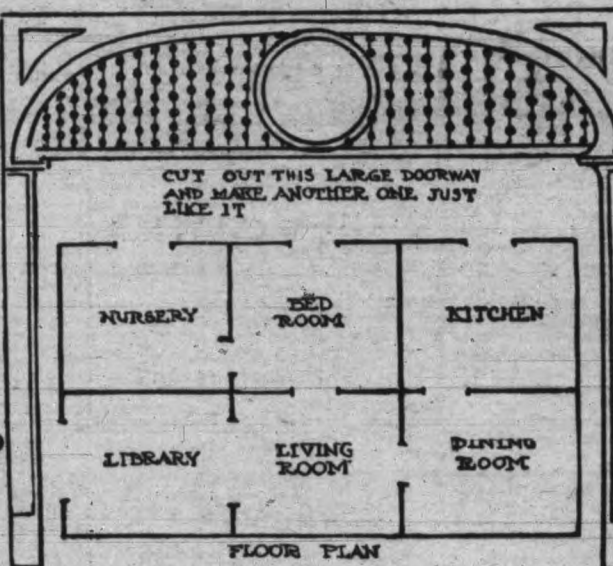

To make the apartment all that is necessary is a pasteboard box 24 inches long by 14 inches wide and 4 inches deep. These dimensions are the best for the size of furniture which is to be published, but if your box is an inch or two longer or shorter or wider or narrower it won't matter very much. If you can not secure a box that is at all near this size it is best to get a larger box and cut it down. A box may also be made of cardboard of the proper dimensions.

The box is divided by a straight partition which goes down the center and two crosswise partitions, which divide the box into six rooms of equal size. One long side of the box is taken off, so that the apartment is to be entirely open across the front, and this sidepiece is used for the long partition which goes down the middle of the box. Before putting the partition in place you should make the doors which lead from one room to another and which are shown in the picture and paper or color the partition with paint to suit the different rooms. In order to do this first decide what color you wish for the walls in the rooms or what paper you are going to use. Divide the long partition into three equal parts by making slits which reach from the bottom half way up the side. Then cut the crosswise partitions long enough to cross the box and four inches deep. These may be cut from the box lid. Each of these crosswise pieces is divided in the middle by a slit which reaches from the top half way to the bottom. Fasten these cross partitions on the long partition at the places where it is cut and then place the partition in the box temporarily to see where each section of wall comes. Then with a pencil mark on each side of the wall of each room which room it is, so that when you take out the partition you will know how to color or paper it. Then remove the partition and paper or color each of the two walls made for each room by the partition according to the way you have marked it. Paper or color the remaining wall of each room made by the side of the box to correspond. Use pale gray, pale green, cream color or tan for the door frames. Then paste each door frame in its proper place in the partitions, so that when the partition is in place the doorway will come as it should. Cut away the cardboard inside the door frame. There are not really any doors, but the white paper frames will look like a Colonial finish. There must be frames for each side of the wall.

The windows are all printed here. Cut out of the paper and in the two ends. The them. Some of the furniture will be shown out and paste them in the back wall-frames. We show you where to put them next week.

for eight miles to the Knob, a big rock set about a hundred yards from shore at the opposite end. The Knob made a perfect turning point, and with the return "leg" the competitors had sixteen miles to race, as the starting line was also the finish.

For private reasons the Hustler proceeded to the course under sail, but her new structure was indeed unique. The barge sail with its twin masts had been reduced considerably in size to allow space for the aeroplane's engine, now perched on the stern. The necessary engine adjuncts, such as sparking battery, oil tank, &c., were stowed in the tiny cockpit and the old rudder was replaced by a stronger one. This rudder supported the added engine weight clear of the ice, acting as the rear runner or shog at the same time.

"Hi! Look at the windmill on ice!" piped Walter Armstrong, as he brought his sharpie, the Ice Queen, up to the wharf in a beautiful curve.

But Pliny and Austen only grinned as they landed at Old Wharf to receive their handicap from the committee. The committee didn't know just what to do—it had never had an entry like this before. But it finally classed the Hustler as a "wind-scooter" and as it was a power boat now it got no handicap, but was put at scratch, back of the starting line. There were fourteen contestants, some with as much as a mile handicap, and by three o'clock, starting time, the shores were lined with spectators.

A few minutes before the hour the North Bay Yacht Club pennant was run up on the flag pole at the wharf end as a signal to get ready for the dash. All the yachts but one at scratch immediately "broke out" their canvas and began tacking for position in graceful sweeps—as the wind was dead against them.

But Austen simply close reefed his small spread of sail, while Pliny tested the spark and "primed his engine."

A minute before three Austen jumped off the Hustler and stationed himself directly behind the fan with both hands gripping its blades.

Bang! Austen gave the propeller a mighty twist exactly as the gun spoke—the big blades quivered a second and then began to revolve, while Austen sprang for the Hustler, which instantly began to move.

It was a splendid start—the six boats at scratch got over the line at almost the same time. Then began the series of tacks across the long reaches—for all except one!

"Look at the Hustler!" cried the crowd, equipped with the powerful aeroplane motor, and broad enough to maintain an even keel with her flat scow shaped hull, the Hustler bored right into the icy wind, which was rapidly increasing to a gale.

The Hustler was a quarter mile ahead even before the first long tack was finished by the others. Then the Hustler began to pick up boat after boat of their rivals with handicaps. The Knob was rounded—the race half over, and the rivals nowhere!

If they'd hit a fast clip against the wind, they simply flew with it! They'd done about twenty-five miles an hour on the ice to the Knob. Now they were going twice that! Of course the stretches of open water where they had to lower the centreboard slowed them up, but it was like "shooting the chutes" to slide from the ice into the water at such speed and they had to keep as far forward as possible to balance the engine.

Then they began to repass their rivals who'd not completed the first leg of the course. "How about our old Windmill on runners now?" yelled Pliny as they swept by the Ice Queen. But he spoke a little too soon, for shortly after the engine began to miss explosions. Pliny drenched it again with oil, but soon most of its cylinders were "gone" and it stopped dead still!

And they were only four miles from the finish! Austen glanced despairingly from the "dead" engine to the patch of sail. Pliny shook his head dejectedly after an examination; something was the matter with the carburetor—it might take an hour to fix.

"And we can't wait!" groaned Austen. "We'll have to get in with this little rag—no here goes!" He brought the boat into the wind, and they set out for home at about ten miles an hour! For the Hustler was only a common little snow scow once more.

After long, laborious tacks as the wind became cranky and began to shift, they finally put another mile behind them, when Austen looked back in dismay. The Ice Queen was coming up like a racehorse in the teeth of the wind!

The Ice Queen gained so rapidly that half a mile from the finish found her but an eighth of a mile astern the lagging Hustler—making three feet to her one. Then a large dark cloud gathered; the wind freshened, and with a flurry of snow the sudden squall broke over them.

"Here's a bare chance!" cried Austen, for the snow squall had whirled in on a perverse angle of the wind and broke just outside of the Ice Queen's zone. This added impetus doubled the speed of the Hustler, and for several minutes she quite held her own until the Ice Queen passed into the squall.

By this time they were within three hundred yards of the finish. Of course the squall doubled the Ice Queen's speed and she whirled after the Hustler, picking up the intervening distance at lightning speed.

One hundred yards, and the Ice Queen only needed a little over a hundred feet to run level. Fifty yards, and the excited spectators cheered frantically for the Hustler to keep up; her great flight had caught the crowd. The Ice Queen had cut down the Hustler's lead to thirty feet!

The referee clapped his eyes to the telescope sighted along the finish line. For a second he caught nothing but the moving blur of snowflakes and steel blue ice. Then came, first a vague, scow-shaped outline with a huge fan, followed not five feet astern by the Ice Queen!

And that finish also finishes the story of how, thanks to George Rogers, the name of Quick was engraved on the North Bay Trophy for a second time!

The Right Way to Buy a Diamond

Buying a Diamond is not a matter of shopping for the cheapest price, nor of looking for the "most for your money" from the standpoint of quantity.

Diamond buying is pre-eminently a quality deal, and inasmuch as a knowledge of actual diamond value can only be gained from years of very careful study and observation, the customer in most cases must rely greatly upon the representation of the diamond merchant.

Buying a diamond, then, resolves itself into a question of confidence.
It is more a question WHERE to buy than WHAT or WHICH to buy. We have built up a reputation for integrity, fair dealing and fair prices, that is as clear and flawless as the very diamond you are looking for. That reputation is the most precious gem, and we depend upon the spotlessness of THAT gem to earn for us your patronage in any transaction involving unconditional and unquestioned confidence, such as the purchase of a diamond or other precious stone.

You will find our stock choice and varied, our prices as reasonable as high grade quality can possibly be quoted.

Miss I. B. Pool, the bride's half sister, was the bridesmaid. A small party of intimate friends were privileged to view the ceremony.

The bride's wedding gown was of beautiful white liberty silk, trimmed with Maltese lace. A wreath of orange blossoms was twined artistically in her coiffure. The drawing room, in which the ceremony was performed, was decorated with blushing carnations, beautiful lilies of the valley, ferns of many varieties and great bunches of smilax.
Directly above the bride and groom was hung a luxuriant basket of flowers.

After the ceremony luncheon was served the guests, the table being decorated with bridal roses, lilies and smilax. Shortly afterwards the happy couple left on their honeymoon, going by way of Seattle, New York and Bos-

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

In Boston the other day the first steps were taken toward the formation of a Servant Girls'
Union. This union
plans to demand for its members
an eight-hour day, not less than nine dollars a week, and exemption from any but certain duties definitely agreed upon as servant girls' duties. If this union is successful in Boston, it plans to extend itself rapidly over the whole country.

I can plainly imagine how the average housewife, who is already paying nearly double what she did fifteen years ago for domestic service, shudders at this news, so I have a suggestion ready for her.

Beat them to it.
Get a housewives' union first.

What will its purpose be? To keep down wages and lengthen hours, you ask?

No, I didn't mean exactly that.
Tell you what I mean. Over in Germany there has recently been formed a "League of Politeness." Its members pledge themselves to politeness to all, rich or poor, insignificant or great, with whom they come in contact. And by politeness the women mean not just polished manners, but that finer, deeper politeness which has been beautifully defined as meaning,
"To do or say the kindest thing in the kindest way."

Well now, why can't the housewives' union be a sort of league of justice and kindness—a do-as-you-would-be-done-by league?

Its members would promise to treat their maids so justly and kindly that they should have no excuse for belonging to any hostile union.

To definite requirements in regard to work, to regularity in regard to pay, to liberality in regard to time off, to justice in regard to complaints, to humanity and readiness to put themselves in her place, in regard to all relations with their maids the mistress who belonged to this union would be required to pledge themselves.

Perhaps it might be well if they were also obliged to sign a written pledge something like this: "I will promise to always keep in mind that my maid is not a housework machine, but a woman like myself, with the same longings for happiness that I have, and to do all in my power to give her a fair chance for that happiness."

Not to be accepted as a member of this union would, of course, be a public disgrace.

Does it all sound so very absurd to you?

I hope not, for if you are the kind of woman I think you are, I am sure you are already a silent member of this unformed league, and only waiting for its formation to give it your public support.

COLONY COMING FROM TORONTO

Big Crowd Will Leave the East This Spring for British Columbia

A new and rather startling proof of the fact that the trend of the world is westward was furnished to the local branch of the Vancouver Island Development League with the arrival of the last mail from the east. The mail brought a communication from one A. Speller, who lives in Toronto, who after expressing appreciation of the consideration and promptitude shown in his inquiries regarding Victoria announces his intention of coming here in the early spring. Then comes the crunch. "There is going to be quite a colony from Toronto to B. C. this spring," he says, and winds up his communication with the customary felicitations.

Is Toronto on the wane? Has its triumphant jolt with fortune ended, or is it merely taking in more than it can conveniently assimilate? That for presumption is certainly the most probable. Toronto is a good place to stop over while on a journey to the Pacific. It makes a nice break from the old country, and a short stay within its spacious portals not only prepares one for the glories of the west, but it replenishes the purse of the traveller whose real estate is most likely in his head. These Torontonians will be heartily welcome to B. C. and more especially to Victoria.

By the same mail the league received the congratulations of G. W. Stock, now of Victoria but formerly of Edmonton. He had been persuaded by the league's booklets to change his quarters, and having proved to his own satisfaction that the change was a profitable one in every respect he now conveys his thanks.

LITTLE DANGER IN AEROPLANING

SO SAYS WHITE OF FLYING FAME

Extra Speed Lessens Risk—Great Things Expected During Present Year

A most practical and inspiring discussion of the future of aviation appeared recently from the pen of Claude Graham-White, who confidently affirms the year 1911 will witness the actual development of a great new industry.

The advancement of the aeroplane, he points out, has been checked by three defects in the machine themselves—inability to combat winds, constructional weakness, and unreliability of their engines.

"These defects, which made aeroplanes mere playthings in their early stages of development, are already being overcome in an altogether surprising way," the writer says. "That they will be completely overcome, and that flying machines will be made practical for everyday use, is my firm conviction."

"Take flying in winds, for instance. With the aeroplanes we had in the beginning it was only possible to ascend when the wind was as low as four or five miles an hour. Now I find it possible to remain in the air and control my machine in a wind of twenty-five miles. From this to the ability to fly in even stronger winds is merely a question of greater speed."

"I have become an ardent advocate of high speed flying. Speed gives you power to overcome the attacks of sudden wind gusts, which are an airman's chief peril. In a high-speed monoplane, for example, you dash through an adverse gust in the same way a fast torpedo boat destroyer thrusts its way through an opposing wave."

"For this reason, in my constructional work I shall devote my earnest attention to a high-speed machine. For greater weight and rigidity of construction is bound to come, and with it will dawn an era of aerial travel at speeds of from 100 miles an hour up. At such speed it will be possible to pilot a machine through anything short of an actual gale."

"When we have this machine, which is my intention to strive for, constructionally, regular aerial service will become not only possible, but profitable."

"Engine problems are solving themselves. With the skepticism with which some people always view a new idea it was contended in the infancy of aeroplanes, that no petrol motor would stand the strain of propelling an aeroplane, because of its necessary lightness, and the high speed at which it would have to run. The answer to these critics has been overwhelming. Even while our aeroplanes, and particularly our propellers, are admittedly imperfect, thereby imposing upon the engine the most difficult conditions, flights of three, five or six hours already are evoking no particular comment. To a certain extent, indeed, the duration of the flight has become purely a matter of petrol carrying. I have not the slightest fear, therefore, as to the success of the flying machine engine."

"Now there is the question of safety. Here I am faced with grave misconception. People generally have come to the conclusion that flying is highly dangerous and will always remain so. As a practical flyer I say there is little danger in it now, and that in the future there will be no more risk in an aerial journey than there is in moving from point to point in a railway train."

"Analyzing the deaths that have taken place, it is possible to draw a practical lesson from each, and thus the set of circumstances which has brought about any one of these fatalities is not likely to occur again. Inexperience, foolhardiness, and constructional weakness in machines have been responsible for practically all the accidents which have taken place so far. Given a good and carefully-trained pilot and proper weather conditions, flying is already as safe as motoring, and soon it will prove to be safer."

"Next summer, practically for the first time, people will be able to enjoy sojourns of air travel. The first of a type of the machine one might call an air car will be ready for trials in the spring. It will be a strongly-built monoplane, with a 100-horsepower engine and a body like a motor car, with four comfortably padded seats, well protected from the wind. There need be no reason why any wealthy motorist shall not purchase such a machine and have an aerial chauffeur. If he does not want to learn to drive himself, and enjoy peripling in a thoroughly practical way."

"In its sporting aspect I foresee that flying will enjoy even greater vogue than motoring. Motor-car driving, even in its most favorable aspects, cannot be compared to flying. There is a sense of freedom and exhilaration in flying swiftly through the air that never comes when driving a car. I speak from experience again, having done more than a little motoring."

"Directly a more convenient and less bulky machine, than the present aeroplane can be produced the public demand for it will begin. I see no unsurmountable difficulty in the way of completely revolutionizing by means of the aeroplane all existing methods of communication."

BALLINGER'S SUCCESSOR

New York, March 8.—Before starting for Europe yesterday Gifford Pinchot, former United States chief forester, discussed the succession of Walter L. Fisher, of Chicago, as secretary of the interior, replacing his cousin, H. A. Fisher, the father, who died last week.

THE BALD-HEADED MAN MAY LOOK WISE

But If He Had Been He Would Have Had Hair Now.

You do not want a scientific treatise on the hair follicle—you are not particularly interested in the name of the German scientist who isolated the bug that is said to cause baldness. What you do want to know is how to save the hair you have and make it strong and lustrous.

Nyal's Hirsutone will do it better than anything else.

It is not claimed that Hirsutone is a wonderful scientific secret—but it is the concrete result of all that is proven in the scientific treatment of sick and diseased hair and scalp.

It is a happy combination, and you will notice a prompt improvement in the feeling of the scalp and the look of the hair.

Hirsutone loosens and removes all scales and matted deposit on the scalp, stimulates the hair bulbs and gives new life and vigor to the hair itself.

Nyal's Hirsutone gives back to the hair and scalp just what it has been robbed of by your neglect and abuse. It is time to start right. Use Hirsutone.

It is one of the Nyal remedies and no higher recommendation can be given. They are all good. Ask your Nyal Druggist. He recommends it.

MARTYR TO SCIENCE

COMING TO CANADA

Dr. Pepperdene, of X-Ray
Fame, Emigrating for Sake of His Boys

Professor Pepperdene, one of the martyrs to scientific research, is coming to Canada. When Queen Alexandra brought the first Finson ray apparatus from Copenhagen to Whitechapel, Prof. Pepperdene was the man selected to administer treatment at the London hospital. At that time the disease lupus was epidemic among a certain class in the metropolis, and it was thought that the invention of Roentgen would alleviate the disease, if not cure it, but it was necessary to experiment. In these experiments, lasting nearly four years, Prof. Pepperdene lost his arm; and one of the brightest careers in scientific London was, for practical work, closed.

Shortly after the experiments commenced, a peculiar contraction of flesh was noticed on the professor's index finger. The condition spread slowly. In a little time the whole hand was affected. Numbering among them, the most brilliant specialists in London and Europe, the friends of Mr. Pepperdene were consulted, but the condition could not be diagnosed, and at last, in the hope of arresting the disease, one finger was amputated. The amputation did not reveal the cause, and the case was given up.

The patient then began to experiment on himself, and as he put it to the writer, "stumbled" on to the cause. While the ray is not harmful to those being treated, the operator runs a big risk from exposure to the powerful light, and from this, he was suffering. In every discovery, there are endless "failures" through which success has come at last, but in modern times certainly this case has few parallels.

"For five years," he said, "I never slept without opium. The patients at the hospital were not informed of my condition, and I treated them as usual. Not until several fingers had been amputated did they see that the glove which I wore was getting smaller, and then one or two of them asked me why I did not discontinue practice."

"But I was determined to find a cure for the new condition, and when I had done that I was content to cease, although, before this was done, my arm had to be taken off."

"A course worthy of the fine traditions of English medicine," said a specialist when speaking of the case to the writer, "and I am glad to see that the King and Queen have taken an interest in the case."

"Here was one of the big specialists

First Annual Meeting of the Delta Board of Trade

New Westminster, March 8.—The reports submitted at the first annual meeting of the Delta Board of Trade, organized in March of last year, indicated the good work the board is doing for the Delta district.

The matter of transportation has been one that the board does not dwell upon during the year. Ladner, and the farmers round about that place, are desirous of direct connection with Vancouver. The board expressed itself in favor of the British Columbia Electric railway building a line direct to Vancouver and took up the matter with the officials of that line. The request involved the spanning of the Fraser river, which would necessarily entail much expense. While it is problematical whether the company would care to undertake such an expensive proposition at this time, still the board received a good hearing and the request was forwarded by the Vancouver officials of the company to the London board of directors.

Connection with New Westminster was also sought from the British Columbia Electric railway. From all that the board can learn this is practically assured in the near future.

The improvement of the Fraser river channel has also received attention of the board, which has joined in with the other interests using the river in making representations to the government to have this work attended to.

Attention was paid during the year to Great Northern transportation matters, and several concessions obtained from that company. Better express facilities on the British Columbia Electric railway from Steveston to Vancouver were also obtained for the Delta, suggestions to the municipal council and various other matters, all for the good of the district, were taken up during the year.

The Delta board has at present about eighty members in good standing. It is associated with the Fraser Valley Progressive Association and the Greater Vancouver and Contiguous Municipal League. C. H. Stuart Wade, secretary of the Westminster Board of Trade, organized this progressive association of farmers and business men.

SCHOOL ACCOMMODATION.

Prince Rupert, March 8.—The members of the trustee board have under consideration the meeting of what promises to be an early demand for increased school accommodation. At a meeting, when all members of the board were present, the subject came up on a resolution being received from the city council recommending that a room be opened for small children in the western portion of the city. The subject has been considered at considerable length from time to time by the present board, and also by last year's board. The council's resolution will be placed before that body as it is presenting itself to the board at present. It had been the intention of last year's board to open a room in the old school for the small pupils, but grading operations made this practically impossible. After going fully into the subject it was deemed wise not to open a room outside of the new school, the inspector having expressed himself as strongly opposed to it in the interests of school management. The board, however, has through William Manson, been in negotiation with the government at Victoria in the hope of securing a school site. The opinion is held by the board that if a site is secured a temporary two-room school may be found advisable in order to handle all the pupils offering by the time the summer opens. The council will be acquainted with these facts.

DIED FROM EXPOSURE.

Nelson, March 8.—That Mary Ann Christy, an Indian woman found dead the other morning near Castlegar, came to her end, through exposure to the cold, while practically incapable of making her way to shelter, owing to sickness. In the conclusion drawn from the investigation of John T. Black, chief provincial constable, and J. D. Wightman, provincial constable, and the medical examination of the body made by Dr. Gilbert Hartin, coroner.

UNCLE WALT

The Poet-Philosopher

STINGY WITH PRAISE.

I know a man who always sighs, and looks disgruntled, tired and sad, when he sits down to eat the pies his wife has baked, to make him glad. "These pies are good enough, I guess," he'll say, as into them he'll wade; "but oh, he'll cry, in great distress, 'the good old pies my mother made!' I think it is the meanest trick, discouraging a frau like that; and some one ought to take a brick and swat him gently on the hat. She brews him coffee that would make the nectar of Olympus fade; 'All coffee,' says he, 'is a fake, beside the kind my mother made!' No odds how elegant a dish his wife may lovingly provide, he'll wipe his eyes and breathe a wish to have the dope his mother tried. I weary of his thankless tunes; I knew his mother, long ago; she could cook for moidy princes, and some fine day I'll tell him so. His wife can beat her forty blocks at cooking porridge, pork and pies, and yet she has to stand his knocks and listen to his doleful sighs. Those men who do not praise their wives when wives put up a splendid lunch, should struggle to reform their lives; they're worth about ten cents a bunch.

MINES AGAIN ON SHIPPING LIST

The Molly Gibson and Kootenay Belle Sent Ore to Trail Smelter

Nelson, March 8.—Two of the shipments to the Trail smelter last week, as recorded in the returns, are particularly significant. The Kootenay Belle Gold Mine of the Sheep Creek camp, and the Molly Gibson silver-lead mine on Kootenay creek, near Nelson, both resumed shipments after a long period of quiescence. It is a matter of some years since the Molly Gibson was one of the most prominent shippers of the Kootenay, while the Kootenay Belle last shipped in 1909. The Athabasca made its first shipment of the year last week. This famous old Nelson mine also sent over a shipment about the last week of the old year, and ever since has been steadily taking out gold ore and producing bullion and concentrates.

The ore shipments for the week and for the year to date are as follows:
Boundary—Week, 26,765 tons; to date, 26,541 tons.
Rooseland—Week, 4,701 tons; to date, 40,314 tons.
Slocan-Kootenay—Week, 4,710 tons; to date, 40,417 tons.

The total shipments for the week, including estimated milling, were 36,176 tons, and for the year to date, 355,515 tons.
Smelter receipts for the week and year to date are as follows:
Week To Date.
B. C. Copper Co., 8,822 89,109
Granby, 16,338 192,664
Consolidated Co., 7,388 70,637

The total receipts at smelters for week, including concentrates, were 32,248 tons, and for year to date, 352,410 tons.

PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN.

Chilliwack, March 8.—A deputation from the board of trade waited upon the council at a recent meeting for the purpose of securing financial assistance in aid of the publicity plans of the board. This matter was laid over until the next meeting.

John B. Croly was appointed city engineer and street superintendent at a salary of $150 per month. Mr. Croly was chosen out of 15 or 20 applicants for the position. His duties will commence on March 15.

The resignation of A. L. Coote as license commissioner was submitted and accepted, and N. L. Webb appointed to fill the vacancy.

The report of the fire, water and light committee recommending that the present lighting system be extended by the addition of forty more lights was received and adopted.

PIONEER PASSES AWAY.

New Westminster, March 8.—After an illness lasting a little over a week, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Scott, relict of Colonel J. T. Scott, passed away at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. R. B. Kelly, 815 Kennedy street, this city, in her 71st year. Deceased leaves seven children and 26 grandchildren, all of whom live in this province. The late Mrs. Scott was one of the oldest pioneers of this district, her husband having come to this place in 1859. Colonel Scott was for many years a well known figure in this city, taking considerable interest in public affairs, and especially in the May Day celebration, he having been master of ceremonies for over 40 years. Colonel Scott died at Fort Moody on Sunday, February 16, 1908. Mr. and Mrs. Scott were the first persons to build a frame house in this city.

TROUBLE IN RANKS OF MEXICAN REBELS

Men Refuse to Obey Insurgent Leaders in Lower California

Mexicali, March 8.—Without the firing of a hostile gun the army of liberation, which was to have established a Socialist republic in Lower California, with this little hamlet of adobe houses as the capital, has been beaten. It encompassed its own defeat. When the federals came, in all probability they will find nobody to fight. Dissension rampant for more than a week reached its crisis yesterday. In face of the enemy which is expected to strike at any hour, a handful of insurgents manning the rifle pits again voted a lack of confidence in the leaders, Leyva and Berthold.

In spite of this Leyva and Berthold remain defiant, standing pat on the coup they worked three days ago, when they regained power from Capt. Stanley.

The rebel camp was in turmoil all day. The trouble began when John K. Turner, the writer, arrived, bringing the word that the revolutionary junta of Los Angeles, was as much dissatisfied with the present leadership as the men of the army. He declared that in disregarding the vote on Saturday, deposing Leyva, the cardinal principle for which the men are fighting was violated.

Turner had a long conference with the two leaders, and this was punctuated by loud talking and violent gestures. It is understood that he forced Berthold and Leyva to again submit their leadership to the men. While the result was the same as that which gave Stanley power on Saturday, Berthold and Leyva continued to ignore it.

They maintained their right by virtue of the guns in the hands of a few adherents. This was possible, as all known to be opposed had been disarmed. As a result only between 30 and 40 men in the camp are armed.

PASSING SHOW

New Grand Theatre.

Three houses crowded to capacity saw the Grand theatre show yesterday, with the Long Acre singing four appearing in a most successful turn, rendering several encores and meeting with a popular reception for each number given. "The Happy Medium," a farcical playlet, with Clayton Kennedy and Mattie Rooney as the medium and the seeker after a knowledge of the future, is the most eccentric and laughable thing on the stage. Every audience here has voted it the premier laugh act of the winter shows. Ford and Manning have a dancing turn into which they throw unlimited energy; Miss Italia is a bright little performer who had a specialty set stage for showing her ability as an equilibrist, and J. Herbert Mitchell never wears his audiences, but is a clever talker and sings well. The grandiose pictures are scenes of working a marble quarry and comic pictures.

If petition is successful the car will run directly down Central Avenue, through Shoal Bay Park.
